NO. 169—SEVENTY-THIRD YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY, JUNE 26, 1931 | TWENTY PAGES

MAYORS ARE OPPOSED TO DOLE SYSTEM

Municipal Heads Say Care of Transients Rests With Dominion

PROVINCIAL CABINET WILL MEET TODAY

VANCOUVER, June 25.—In rejecting of the fifty-thirty-twenty scheme, under which the cost of direct relief was to be borne by Federal, provincial and municipal authorities in that respective ratio, municipal heads at a meeting today pointed out that the scheme was an unscientific dole.

The resolution declared the municipalities were unable to contribute on that basis through depletion of their finances, and added that the responsibility lay with Federal and provincial authorities for the case of transients.

Both Governments were asked to prepare an unemployment relief work plan. In conclusion, the municipalities declared they were prepared to look after their own indigent, according to their budgets.

Spokesmen of every municipality were unanimous in condemning the fifty-thirty-twenty scheme.

UNANIMOUS IN VIEW

Delegates were also unanimous in the view that, if the fifty-thirty-twenty plan were inaugurated, municipalities would be flooded with transients, and that the transient problem was one for Federal and Provincial Governments alone.

Mayor Taylor intimated that replies he had received from Prairie municipalities indicated that they, too, were of the opinion that the care of transients was one for the Federal Government. It was intimated that the Regina conference would probably be held on July 6 or 7.

SPECIAL CABINET SESSION

Unemployment relief will likely be considered by the Provincial Cabinet in special session today, in the light of new circumstances which have entered the case. Definite word through Senator Gideon Robertson, that the Dominion was ready, conditionally, to pay half the cost of providing for transients, has been received by the province. This, it is stated, is a temporary measure, to take care of the situation until a programme of useful works may be agreed upon and put in operation.

TEACHING PLAN WINS APPROVAL

B.C. Teachers' Federation Studies Application of Proposals in Schools

Concrete results from his personal investigation into teaching duties in assisted school areas of the province were disclosed yesterday by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, when he announced that the British Columbia Teachers' Federation had heartily approved of the basis of these proposals. Mr. Hinchliffe said the federation was now studying the application of these principles to rural and urban schools to see if the same basic considerations will hold good.

Mr. Hinchliffe's plan in essence was the determination of basic factors by means of which the actual duties of all teachers in the assisted school areas could be accurately gauged, making allowances for routine duties, added duties, living conditions, qualifications necessary and many other phases of the case.

This plan, as drafted after a month's examination on the ground with personal contact at many schools, may be applied by the Province to assisted school districts, in which it pays nearly all of the teaching salaries.

REMUNERATION VALUES

As the assisted school districts comprise roughly one-tenth of the entire school system, Mr. Hinchliffe asked the British Columbia Teachers' Federation if in its opinion his proposals could also be applied to rural and urban schools. If this proves to be the case, with necessary modifications for altered teaching conditions, the plan may become an official estimate of teaching requirements and duties for

REFUSE TO CAST ALLIANCE ASIDE

Manitoba Liberals to Keep Identity During Election, Though Allied to Progressives

WINNIPEG, June 25 (CP).—Liberals of Manitoba, in annual convention today, refused to cast aside the alliance with the ruling Bracken Progressives which has existed for the last two years. From an "independence resolution," the convention voted to delete a mandate that the party be "unimpaired and unhampered by allegiance with any other political group."

The Liberal party, however, will not lose its identity during the election, which Government members have definitely stated will not come until the expiration of Premier John Bracken's five-year term.

Attack Is Launched On Island

VANCOUVER, June 25.—Some time during the early hours Saturday morning the combined forces of the Mainland will arrive off Vancouver Island in preparation for the attack on Victoria.

Five battalions of infantry, artillery, machine gun corps, signals, a divisional train and ambulance corps will embark here on H.M.S. Dragon, H.M.C.S. Vancouver and H.M.C.S. Armentieres, under the command of Col. W. W. Foster, D.S.O., and leave Vancouver about 9 o'clock tonight.

Although plans of operation are necessarily kept secret, it is expected that a landing will be made at two points during Saturday morning under cover of the fire from the protecting ships.

WILL STUDY PORT NEEDS

Sir Alexander Gibb Coming From England to Make Report

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—After Sir Alexander Gibb has studied the needs of the Canadian ports with a view to developments over a long term of years and has submitted his report to the Government, a policy will be decided upon, Hon. Alfred Duranleau, Minister of Marine, stated in the House of Commons this afternoon. The discussion arose on the bill to provide a loan to the Halifax Harbor Commission for $3,500,000.

Liberal members advanced the contention that Premier R. B. Bennett, in his campaign speeches, stated that the main ports of Canada should be national ports and free of fees. He had also stated in the House that, instead of making loans to harbor boards, the Dominion should make direct grants. The bill to provide loans was not in accordance with such promises, Liberals declared.

NO CHANGE MADE

No change had been made in the policy the Conservatives would follow from that laid down by Premier Bennett, but it could not be developed until after Sir Alexander Gibb had made his report, said Mr. Duranleau. If it was decided to make the ports national ports, then the harbor commissions would disappear. The present loans, the minister declared, were to look after work already started.

The bill for the Halifax loan went through the various stages and obtained final reading. Sir Alexander Gibb is an eminent port authority, who will study Canadian ports. His staff is already in Montreal obtaining data for him, and he will arrive from England in a short time.

HAS 105TH BIRTHDAY

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., June 25.—Celebrating her 105th birthday yesterday, Mrs. Catherine McIntyre, of Kensington, received many messages of congratulations from her Island friends. Her parents emigrated here from the Hebrides. She was born at Lower New Annan.

Terms of Trade Agreement With Australia to Be Known Soon

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—The terms of the trade agreement between Canada and Australia will probably be announced in the House of Commons on July 8, Premier R. B. Bennett announced in the House this afternoon.

He explained that Canada had signed an agreement which had been mailed to Australia and Australia had executed an agreement which had been mailed to Canada. These would reach their destinations probably around the fifth or sixth of July, and it would be possible to make a statement in the House shortly afterwards.

The Government of Australia desired that a statement in respect to the agreement should be released simultaneously; and as soon as the copies reached their destinations there would be no delay.

France in Spotlight As Moratorium Plan Discussions Advance

Text of Premier Laval's Reply to Hoover Proposal to Be Known Today—Capitals of World Await Details

LONDON, June 26 (AP).—The spotlight is trained on Paris in negotiations concerning President Hoover's moratorium proposal and the capitals of the world await the action of the French Chamber of Deputies which receives the text of Premier Laval's reply to President Hoover today.

Andrew W. Mellon is in Paris for a series of conferences similar to those he held in England, and Secretary of State Stimson will sail for Europe on Saturday.

BERLIN ENCOURAGED

London and Berlin, having approved the President's plan, are watching France, and Berlin is encouraged by the cordial reception accorded in France to Chancellor Bruening's suggestion for an informal Franco-German conference, similar to the meeting at Chequers recently.

The Federal Reserve Bank and the Bank of France and England have loaned the Reichsbank $100,000,000 to tide it over the end of the month.

WASHINGTON OPTIMISTIC

Washington is encouraged at the progress of negotiations with Paris and Secretary Stimson, after a talk with Ambassador Claudel, was reported as optimistic regarding the general acceptance of the President's plan.

Authors Hold Next Meeting On the Coast

TORONTO, June 25.—The Canadian Authors' Association today decided that a proposal to hold the 1932 convention of the association in England was inexpedient "on account of the depression," and an invitation of the Vancouver branch met with general approval. Duncan Campbell Scott, of Ottawa, was unanimously elected president of the association.

THREE MILLION PROFIT SHOWN

Underwriting Companies Also Received 750,000 No-Par-Value Shares

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—On the sale of the bonds of the Beauharnois Power Company, the Dominion Securities Corporation and Newman, Sweezey & Company made an apparent profit of $3,000,000, and in addition received 750,000 common shares in the company, Peter White, committee counsel, told the special committee of the House of Commons investigating the Beauharnois Power project today.

Reading from the statement in lieu of prospectus and other documents, Mr. White said the two underwriting companies obtained bonds of a par value of $30,000,000 for $27,000,000 and sold them to the public at their par value. In addition, as consideration for underwriting the bond issue, they received the block of 750,000 no-par-value shares.

FINANCIAL SET-UP

The financial set-up of the company, Mr. White said, consisted of five management preferred shares, and 1,799,995 Class "A" and 3,200,000 Class "B" common nonvoting no par value shares. The company, according to the statement in lieu of prospectus, was formed for the purpose of acquiring the assets of the Beauharnois syndicate, which, in turn, had acquired the rights of the Robert heirs and the Beauharnois Light, Heat & Power Company.

The third day of the committee's inquiry was taken up with technical evidence of Government engineers and officials, and the evidence of Gerard Lacroix, Quebec barrister, as to his dealings with Jean Cantin, of the transportation and power company, regarding a private bill before the Quebec Legislature.

VANCOUVER MILL SWEPT BY FIRE

Trestle Bridge and Roofing Factory Menaced by Flames—Loss Placed at $20,000

VANCOUVER, June 25.—Fire at J. C. Butler Shingle Co.'s mill, foot of Shaughnessy Street, Marpole, caused loss estimated to be $20,000 and for a time menaced the trestle bridge over the Fraser River used by B.C. E.R. Lulu Island interurban line and plant of Barrett Roofing Co., but was brought under control after a stiff battle this afternoon.

Smoke was observed coming from a dry kiln at the mill. A fire alarm was turned in shortly before 3 p.m. Four fire halls were called out and were met by a severe blaze that, fanned by a strong westerly breeze, demolished seven dry kilns before it was controlled.

Loss to the mill is partly covered by insurance, according to J. C. Butler, president of the company. The plant was formerly the McNair mill, but has been operated by the present company for several months.

JUDGE SAYS LAW IS "GHASTLY FAILURE"

LONDON, Ont., June 25 (CP).—Judge Martin Sweeney, of Cleveland, addressing the annual convention here of the police chiefs, unreservedly attacked the prohibition law of the United States as a "ghastly failure."

Discussing trade, he declared Canada had done the right thing in reciprocating against the Hawley-Smoot tariff law. The Bennett tariff, he believed, had brought the United States Government to a proper realisation of this question.

SIR HARRY REICHEL DEAD

BIARRITZ, France, June 25 (CP).—Sir Harry Reichel, seventy-five, a native of Belfast and one of the leading educationists of Britain, died today.

RELIEF FOR WEST FIRST IS PROMISED

Nobody Knowingly Will Be Allowed to Starve, Says Minister

SOME MUNICIPALITIES NOT PLAYING GAME

WINNIPEG, June 25 (CP).—Canada's first obligation is to feed its people, and it will be carried out, declared Senator Gideon Robertson, Dominion Minister of Labor, at the conclusion of an unemployment conference tonight. The minister conferred with a Manitoba provincial committee, including representatives of cities, towns and municipalities.

"Nobody knowingly will be allowed to starve in Canada," he declared. He added that he had no doubt that a good many unemployment relief undertakings will be got under way by the Federal Government shortly.

"You will appreciate, however, that no member of the Government can commit his colleagues to any statement as to what will be undertaken," he informed the meeting.

APPALLED AT FINDINGS

The West will be looked after first, and after that attention will be paid to the needs of the East, the minister said. His tour of Saskatchwan revealed unprecedented conditions. Senator Robertson said with his thirty years' experience of Saskatchewan he can hardly have believed the conditions he had witnessed. There was an area populated by some 150,000 people, visited by crop failures for one or more years in succession.

In regard to demands from municipalities for full Federal Government assistance, Senator Robertson said that many were not playing the game.

WILL DO UTMOST

"However much they denied it, the municipalities themselves had contributed to the ill-effect of present conditions by planning and banking on the future to enable them to carry on." He declared the Government would do its utmost to alleviate conditions, "but those municipalities that are able to contribute to meet the situation and refuse to do so, will find themselves disappointed."

INDUSTRY WAS UNDER THREAT

Serious Charges Against Liberal Ministers Made by Hamilton Member

HAMILTON, June 25 (CP).—Charges that four Cabinet Ministers in the recent Liberal Government at Ottawa had promised to smash the glass industry in Hamilton were leveled by C. W. Bell, K.C., Member of Parliament for Hamilton West, addressing the Conservative convention tonight in the Federal riding of Hamilton East, at which M. M. Robinson, sportsman and newspaperman, was chosen Conservative candidate to contest the riding at the by-election on August 10.

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, and Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce in the King Government, and two other Cabinet Ministers had opposed the efforts of Hamilton to build up the glass industry there, said Mr. Bell.

VISITED OFFICIALS

Referring to his efforts to aid glass manufacturers in the city, Mr. Bell said: "This is the truth of the thing. In ten or twelve visits to Government officials at Ottawa I did all I could. Yet every time I went to them I found that a new flood of propaganda undermining the confidence of their financial backers had been poured upon them.

"This went on until one day at Ottawa I was told by Mr. Stewart, the Minister of the Interior in the King Administration, and Mr. Malcolm, the Minister of Trade and Commerce, and two other Cabinet Ministers that they would never let Hamilton get its glass industry. And they said: 'We will smash your d—— industry.' That, ladies and gentlemen, is the truth."

This, he declared, had been the attitude of the Liberal members at Ottawa, which had blockaded attempts made by Hamilton men to secure protection for the city's industries.

THIEF IN HIDING DROWNS IN TANK

EVERETT, June 25 (AP).—Caught robbing the safe of a small laundry, here, tonight, a man tentatively identified as J. N. Carter, of Denver, sought to hide in a water tank on the roof and was drowned.

Police had about decided the robber, who had opened the strongbox before they chased him to the roof, had escaped when they heard a splash in the tank. Climbing up, they saw the body in about ten feet of water, but were unable to rescue him before the man was dead.

"TRADER" HORN DEAD

LONDON, June 26 (AP).—Alfred Aloysius "Trader" Horn, co-author of the book "Trader Horn," died early today in a hospital at Whitstable after a brief illness. He was about seventy-eight years old.

Hillig and Hoiriis Land In Germany Exhausted After Atlantic Flight

Crowd of 100,000 Waited at Copenhagen to Greet Flyers—Remain at Bremen to Rest After Terrific Battle With Storms—Passed Over Spain and France

BREMEN, Germany, June 25 (AP)—Otto Hillig and Holger Hoiriis, the second pair of transatlantic flyers to land in Germany in two days, came down at Bremen at 9:40 o'clock tonight, 240 miles short of Copenhagen, the goal of their flight across the ocean.

They were utterly exhausted and Hoiriis was on the verge of collapse from the strain of keeping the ship afloat for thirty-two hours and more.

REFUSES TO PROCEED

Hillig, after a telephone conversation with the chairman of the reception committee awaiting them at Copenhagen, wanted to go on to Denmark with another pilot who knew the way, but Hoiriis insited he would be able to start in the morning, so both flyers went to bed, leaving orders that they were not to be disturbed. The chairman at Copenhagen told them 100,000 persons were at the airport.

Before they turned in they said they wanted to get off for Copenhagen, a flight of about 240 miles, at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning (5 a.m. Eastern standard time).

Landing at Bremen was a surprise for at 8:40 p.m. their monoplane, Liberty, was sighted over the city headed toward Copenhagen from Krefeld, where they had come down to get their bearings earlier in the evening.

TURN BACK AS PRECAUTION

Neither flyer was in any condition to talk about details, but it was understood that somewhere between here and Copenhagen they had decided to turn back rather than take the risk of flying on through the night while both of them were utterly fatigued.

Peace Rail Outlet Statement Will Be Checked at Ottawa

PRESS dispatches from Edmonton crediting G. H. Crane-Williams, director of the Austin Motor Company, with stating he had been assured by Hon. H. H. Stevens that a rail outlet from the Peace District to the Pacific Coast had been decided on, and the route picked out, were drawn to the attention of the Provincial Government here yesterday. Premier Tolmie wired Mr. Stevens, on receipt of the report, but declined to comment on the matter. The dispatch quoted Mr. Crane-Williams as stating that everything about the Peace outlet was settled, and only the passage of the necessary appropriation remained to be carried out.

WOULD SCRAP GOV'T MARINE

Sir Henry Thornton Urges Investigation of Transportation Situation

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—Canada should take immediate steps to dispose of its merchant marine fleet except those in the West Indies service, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railway, today advised the parliamentary committee on shipping.

As a subsidiary of the Government railway system, there is operated a fleet of twenty-nine vessels, connecting Canadian ports on the Atlantic and the Pacific with Australia, New Zealand, South America and other world nations.

TO PREPARE REPORT

The committee took no definite action on the suggestion. Hon. J. D. Chaplin, the chairman, was instructed to prepare a report to be made to the House of Commons, and this, probably, will make mention of Sir Henry's recommendation. The committee today passed the annual reports of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and the Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships.

The railway president made another suggestion to the committee today—appointment of a commission to investigate the whole transportation situation in Canada, in its interlocking relationship with trade and commerce. A national transportation policy was imperative, Sir Henry told the committee.

The Canadian Government Merchant Marine has been operating sixteen boats this year. The committee was told. The fleet totals

Britain Is To Keep on Sacrificing

By NEGLEY FARSON
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

LONDON, June 25.—Great Britain has already scaled down the war debts due her from her allies to a figure representing a sacrifice of about $4,500,000,000. Two-thirds of the British budget is borne by direct taxation, and yet one-third of the entire income tax of this country is borne by British taxpayers because of nonpayment of Great Britain's Allies of the major part of the loans she made to them during the Great War.

The money loaned to France and Italy during the war needs an income tax of one shilling on the pound (24 cents on $4.86) to pay for it. By funding agreements reached in 1926 and 1929, each country is paying Great Britain one penny (2 cents) against that shilling, and the remaining 11 pence (22 cents) "remains an eternal burden on the British income tax."

Understanding what this means can be grasped when it is realized that an Englishman earning, say, $2,500, must yearly pay $100 additional income tax because of the unfunded portion of the Continental war debts to this country. Great Britain must raise in taxes more than $5,000,000 every day to pay the charges on the national debt, which is almost entirely the result of being victorious in the last great war.

POST-GATTY PUSH AHEAD

Round-the-World Flyers Leave Moscow for Irkutsk, Siberia

MOSCOW, June 26 (AP).—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, round-the-world flyers, hopped off at 5 a.m. today (10 p.m., G.S.T., Thursday) for Irkutsk, Siberia.

They expect to stop en route at Novisibirsk, about half way to Irkutsk, for fuel. They should reach Novisibirsk late tomorrow and may remain overnight.

The distance from Moscow to Irkutsk is 2,600 miles.

TAKE-OFF SET BACK

The delicate task of charting their course, and other last-minute preparations at the field, delayed them several hours beyond the time originally set for the take-off and obliged them to abandon their plan of reaching Irkutsk late Friday night.

The distance from here to Novisibirsk is approximately 1,450 miles.

DELAYED BY WIND

The airmen made the 950-mile hop in slightly less than nine hours, arriving here at 5:30 p.m. today (10:30 a.m., E.S.T.), after bucking side winds and rain most of the way.

They were officially welcomed by officers of the Soviet Society for the Development of Aviation and the civil organization for the promotion of aviation. Outside of airfield attaches and correspondents, there were few other spectators on hand to greet them.

SPANISH FARMERS GIVE WAR THREAT

Andalusians Demand Work and Land Reform—Thousands of Families Permanently Idle

By RALPH E. PORTE
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

MADRID, June 25.—Warning that civil war would break out in Andalusia by August if the Spanish Government does not alleviate unemployment in that region with a series of public works has evoked important revelations from the ministerial commission engaged in the study of agrarian reform. This startling indication of a possible uprising is contained in a memorandum handed to President Niceto Alcala Zamora by the landowners of the regions of Andalusia and Estremadura and the Province of Toledo.

Professor Sanchez Roman, president of the Commission on Agrarian Reform, has declared that some 75,000 families, comprising 500,000, or 12 per cent of Spain's agricultural population, are now permanently unemployed.

The commission suggests that the Government introduce, as soon as the Cortes assembles, a project for immediate reparation of land among farmers. The entire programme of internal colonization would require about fifteen years.

Prince of Wales Meets Canadian Neighbor Again

EDINBURGH, June 25 (CP).—The Prince of Wales, visiting the Highland Agricultural Show today, quickly recognized another visitor, Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture for Alberta.

"I have met you before," His Royal Highness told Mr. Marshall. "Didn't I see you in Canada in 1927? How is my stock getting on?"

Mr. Marshall assured the Prince concerning his ranch, which is within 100 miles of Mr. Marshall's property in Alberta.

Thirteen Thousand More At Work Than Month Ago

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—Some 13,000 more persons were at work in Canada on June 1 than at the first of the previous month, according to a report by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Payrolls of 7,865 firms provided the following figures: June 1, 940,879 employees; May 1, 927,427 employees.

Large advances were registered in construction, and transportation, trade, service and communications also reported increases. On the other hand, manufacturing, logging and mining show curtailment. Expansion was indicated in all of the five economic areas, firms in Quebec and the Prairie Provinces employing the greatest number of extra workers.

Construction, especially railroad construction, transportation services and communications reported improvement in the Prairie Provinces, but iron and steel factories and trade released employees. The 1,161 firms whose statistics were tabulated employed 125,312 persons, as against 121,006 in the preceding month. Larger increases were indicated on June 1, 1930, and the indices then were higher.

Mineral Survey Is Designed to Cover Industrial Fields

British Columbia Known to Possess Valuable Deposits of Nonmetal Substances of Increasing Value in Trade Today

BRITISH Columbia has nonmetal deposits of magnesite, ceramic clays, soda, mica, bentonite, diaomite, high grade limestone, ground colored rock, and asbestos, to mention only a few of the many deposits and minerals which are to be investigated in the extensive research which is now to be undertaken by the Department of Mines in mining and industrial opportunities not heretofore exploited.

Officials of the Mines Department yesterday made it clear that a specific study is to be made of those nonmetal substances which give best promise of industrial use, and from which might grow large-scale development within the province in the fostering of new industries, or the extension of existing ones. The active assistance of industrialists, prospectors and mineowners is counted on, in support of the survey, in the course of which samples are to be taken and thoroughly tested.

IS PROMISING FIELD

Offhand and from memory, officials of the Mines Department named a list of nine nonmetal minerals for which industrial use is waiting. These and many other avenues are to be explored, to see if British Columbia deposits can be commercially developed to advantage at these times. Low prices in the metal field have encouraged study of these resources, many of which are known to be of much promise.

From magnesite is made a fine grade of refractory brick. Certain special clays are the basis of ceramics, and allied arts for which increasing commercial purposes are being found. Soda goes into the manufacture of soap, besides a score of uses in other fields. Mica enters into electrical equipment, as well as many specialized uses in other lines of industry.

Bentonite is used in oil refining. High-grade limestone has its place in pulp mills. Diatomite is the father of a hundred commercial uses, ranging from filtering to plate

SYMPATHIZER IS EXECUTED

Revolt in Military Ranks of Canton Government Suppressed Promptly

HONGKONG, June 25 (AP).—The new Canton Government today completed the suppression of a revolt in its military ranks by executing Wu Tas Feng, a Nationalist sympathizer accused of having fomented the uprising.

The trouble began Monday when two Canton regiments encamped near that city revolted. A large force of loyal Cantonese troops was rushed to the scene. It surrounded the rebels and disarmed them the next day.

ACCUSED OF SPYING

Wu, who recently was commissioned by the Nationalist Government to handle the recession of Weihaiwei, British leased territory in Shantung, to the Chinese, was arrested by Canton forces and accused of having aided Chiang Kai Shek, President of the Nationalist Government, in instigating the revolt and telegraphing Cantonese military secrets to Nanking, seat of the Nationalist regime.

Wu's execution at Canton followed.

Winnipeg Flooded With Bad Money

WINNIPEG, June 25 (CP).—An agent for two counterfeit gangs, one believed operating in Montreal and the other in Chicago, was sought by police today following a bank warning to merchants to watch out for spurious 25-cent and 50-cent pieces. Some are bogus United States coins and some Canadian, and the city has been flooded with them during the past two weeks.

ROSEBERY NO LONGER ACTIVE

Can Take No Further Part in Liberal Politics, He Declares

LONDON, June 25 (CP). — The Liberal party's recent compromise with Labor over the land values tax crisis has cost the party the services of Lord Rosebery, son of the famous Lord Rosebery, who was liberal Prime Minister in 1894-1895. The sixth Lord Rosebery, Albert Edward Primrose, aged forty-nine served with distinction in the Great War, and holds the D.S.O. and M.C.

It was stated by The Daily Herald, Labor newspaper, today, that Sir John Simon, eminent jurist, will also resign from the Liberal party shortly. "It is now only a question of choosing the right moment for the move," The Daily Herald added. "Sir John is likely to first declare himself an Independent, but it will not be long before he and other Liberals who accept his leadership will enter the Conservative party."

LEADS STRONG GROUP

Sir John has for a considerable time, practically since his re-entry into politics on the conclusion of the work of the Simon Statutory Commission in India, been acknowledged a leader of a section of the Liberal party which, although smaller in number than the "Lloyd Georgian" wing, is yet a powerful group within the party.

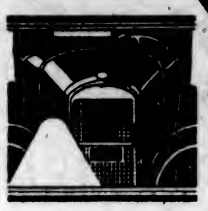

In a letter to the secretary of the Scottish Liberal Federation, Lord Rosebery, traditionally Liberal, leaves no doubt as to the reason for his withdrawal from the party. "I saw eye to eye with Lloyd George during the latter's firm stand at the beginning of the crisis," he wrote, "but within a few days Lloyd George has eaten his words and assented to the Government view. I cannot assent to the 'desecration of a just idea,' and consequently am sorry I can take no further part in Liberal politics."

LABOR PARTY IS BADLY DISRUPTED

Prime Minister Scullin Relying on Opposition to Get Proposals Through

CANBERRA, Australia, June 25 (CP).—The Australian Labor party, under Prime Minister James Scullin, has been split by the Government's economy and financial stabilization proposals in a manner undreamed of when the party came into power two years ago. With the extreme members of the party bitterly opposing the Government, Prime Minister Scullin nevertheless hopes to get his programme through with the aid of the Opposition.

ATTACK TO BE MADE ON CITY

Victoria Object of Enemy Troops in Annual Military - Manoeuvres

With more than 1,400 troops involved, the annual military manoeuvres of the nonpermanent militia units of Vancouver and this city will get under way tonight with an attack on Victoria. Under command of Col. W. W. Foster, Mainland militia units, who comprise the attacking forces, will leave the Mainland about 8 o'clock aboard H.M.S. Dragon, visiting British cruiser, and H.M.C.S. Vancouver and H.M.C.S. Armentiers.

The defending forces, comprising the 1st and 2nd Battalions of the 16th Canadian Scottish, 11th Machine Gun Company, 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, Fortress Signaling Company, 13th Field Ambulance and the 11th Divisional Train, will be commanded by Col. D. B. Martyn.

The gunners and the Canadian Scottish will go into camp at Macauley Point tonight shortly before dusk. The scheme is under the direction of Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, G.O.C., M.D. 11. He will have as assistant directors, Major Morton, G.S.O., R.C.A., and Colonel E. W. Pope, R.C.R.

Brigadier-General Brown left for Vancouver last night to insure that everything is in readiness for the battle.

WOULD SCRAP GOV'T MARINE

twenty-nine ships, thirteen of which have been laid up for some time. One boat was sold earlier in the year, said Sir Henry.

When a boat was sold, explained J. B. McLaren, Comptroller of Finance, the Dominion Government received the proceeds or sustained the loss. The Canadian Trooper was sold this year for $50,000. It cost about $889,000.

The original out-of-pocket cost to the Government, when the fleet first was purchased, was $79,500,000. So far slightly over three millions had been recovered from insurance payments and sales of boats. It might be possible to regain $2,500,000 from the sale of the fleet at present, the committee was told.

COMMERCIAL STRATEGY

Wilfred Hanbury, Liberal member for Vancouver-Burrard asked the committee to consider the operation of the fleet as commercial strategy. The fleet, he said, was worth today $2,500,000. Last year its operation resulted in a loss of $834,000. If the fleet were sold, it would be necessary to subsidize private shippers to maintain the routes. Would it not be good business for the Government to maintain the fleet and sustain the trade it was bringing to Canada? asked Mr. Hanbury.

The halt at Bremen was the second interruption of the flight which was to have been a nonstop trip from Harbor Grace, Nfld., to Copenhagen, where the families of both flyers are waiting for them.

At 5:30 p.m., after long hours in which the most sanguine had almost given up hope, the Liberty dropped out of the sky at Krefeld, about 160 miles south of here.

ONLY FIVE GALLONS

It was lucky for them, as it turned out, for they had only five gallons of gasoline left when their wheels rolled across the turf at the Krefeld airdrome.

Even so, they could not hide their disappointment at not having reached their goal, and they stayed just long enough to eat a couple of sandwiches, drain a stein of beer apiece and refuel.

Between bites they told the airport officials they had come through the worst weather imaginable across the ocean, flying at more than 12,000 feet for long stretches above the clouds.

Through a rift in the heavy cloudbanks they sighted land which they took to be Spain and kept on across France in good weather, spotting the landing field at Krefeld just in time.

Their speed averaged better than 100 miles an hour all the way.

ROTARY BY RADIO

SCHENECTADY, N.Y., June 25 (AP).—The Schenectady, N.Y., and Melbourne, Australia, Rotary Clubs held a joint meeting today without either club leaving its respective town. Short-wave radio did the trick. Members of both clubs sang to the tune of a single piano, played at the Melbourne end of the hookup, and heard the same speeches delivered at both places.

FORMER RESIDENT OF PRINCE RUPERT DIES AT SASEENOS

The funeral of Miss Lily M. Ellett, who died on Wednesday at Saseenos, will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at Holy Trinity Church, Sooke, after which interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Miss Ellett was born fifty-three years ago in London, England. She came to Canada twenty years ago and took up her residence in Prince Rupert, where she leaves a wide circle of friends. While in Prince Rupert she was employed at the postoffice. Miss Ellett came to Victoria about a year ago, suffering ill health, and visited Mrs. H. L. Robberson at Saseenos. Later, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ellett, of London, came to Canada and spent the last few months attending her.

Miss Ellett took a very active part in church work and young people's organizations in Prince Rupert during her stay there.

MINERAL SURVEY IS DESIGNED TO COVER INDUSTRIAL FIELDS

polish, and including a growing use in the making of certain types of cement. Insulation and many other purposes are also served by these deposits believed to have come from a minute type of marine life many centuries ago.

ASBESTOS IN B.C.

It is not generally known that British Columbia has deposits from which asbestos could be extracted, and in this connection the survey will test the location and nature of these deposits, to see if commercial development would be justified.

From the red, blue, green and many-colored shales of the province, colored crushed rock for stucco work and rough casting can be made. These, in their infinite variety of color, are fairly general and of increasing demand, as stucco construction increases.

In addition to the substances named there are many others, each of which has its special purpose in industry, and deposits of which are known to exist within the province. The aim of the survey is to discover nonmetal deposits of practical use today, and to lay this information before the public, so that development that is justified may thus be encouraged.

VALUATIONS OF PRODUCE FIXED

Prices Put on Certain Fruits and Vegetables for Duty Purposes

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—New valuations for duty purposes on certain fruits and vegetables have been fixed by the Minister of National Revenue, according to a bulletin issued here today. Applying to those commodities when imported under the intermediate or the general tariff, the values per pound follow:

Apricots, four cents; cherries, ten cents; raspberries, fifteen cents; beans, green, six cents; beets, four cents; carrots, four cents; celery, two cents; peas, green, six cents; and tomatoes, six cents. Weight of package is included in weight for duty.

POINT OF PRODUCTION

The above values apply to the point of production; and where such products are exported directly to Canada from a diversion or intermediate point, the value for duty shall be these values so fixed, plus all charges thereon to such intermediate point from the point of production.

The above products shipped on consignments without sale prior to shipment, so as to evade the payment of special duty, will be subject to the same special duty as if the goods had been sold prior to shipment.

The values do not apply to goods bona fide purchased on or before June 26 and in transit to Canada on or before June 27, 1931.

Commonwealth's Wages Tax Up To 25 Per Cent

SYDNEY, Australia, June 25 (CP).—Strenuous efforts are being made by the State Government of New South Wales, under the Extremist Premier, Hon. J. T. Lang, to balance the state's budget this year despite the severe economic distress that has been experienced throughout Australia. It is likely a new tax on wages, in addition to the income tax, will be put through.

The new tax on wages is expected to yield about $30,000,000 during the twelve months from July 1 next, in which it will operate. It will replace a tax of 5 per cent already levied on wages for unemployment relief. The new scale will be 5 per cent on wages of $20 per week, rising to 25 per cent on wages of $50 a week and over.

AIRPORT BY-LAW

Sir,—The Airport By-Law is very rightly being deeply considered by the property owners of Victoria at this time.

We must have an airport, the majority of people will agree, because air travel is becoming increasingly popular the world over, and Victoria, being one of the greatest tourist centres on the Pacific Coast, must cater to this trade.

The next and very important thought is what will it cost me as a taxpayer. The by-law is for two hundred and forty thousand dollars. Spread over thirty years about fourteen thousand dollars per annum takes care of sinking fund and interest, approximately one-third of a mill.

The proposed site has been inspected by competent men as being the best site in the vicinity of the city; in fact the only site that can be considered this side of Sidney.

We must also, when thinking of taxes, give considerable thought to the unemployment situation. The city must bear the heavy burden of providing employment. Estimates for the necessary work on the airport have been worked out and we have been told through the press that at least sixty-five thousand dollars will be spent on labor. If this constructive work is not available we shall have to pay this amount, and possibly more, out of current revenue and get nothing for it and find our taxes up three or more mills next year.

It is very surprising to me the attitude taken regarding the by-law by the Ratepayers' Association. Its object surely ought to be to endeavor to keep taxation as low as possible. It is out to attempt to defeat this by-law and if successful the taxpayer, who is shortsighted enough to be led away by its statements, which in many cases are the opposite from fact, will wake up when it is too late and find he has been fooled.

To those who are proud of being residents of his glorious city, I say vote for the Airport By-Law. See that your friends who have a vote use it. You will be lessening your taxes instead of raising them. Pass this by-law and the man who now pays $50 per annum will only have to pay an extra forty-five cents. Don't say you can't afford that. The city will have one of the finest landing fields on the Pacific Coast.

The Ratepayers' Association is trying to fool the property owners of Victoria by its nonprogressive policy. Show it you can't be fooled and vote for the Airport By-Law.

"SAVE THE CHILDREN"

Sir,—May I say just a few words again on behalf of this fund for the needy children in various parts of the world. It is a fund always before us. Mr. Landsberg is grateful for any help for it, and I sometimes think that more would give if they felt small sums were not despised.

Can Be Obtained at All Good Drug Stores Special Across VANCOUVER DRUG COMPANY'S EIGHTEEN STORES

Surely there are people passing about the town who would be glad to give their 25c or 50c into the office at 737 Fort Street. Every month something comes in, but very little, and when Captain Gracey was here in May he told me how he longed to be able to send shoes and stockings for the miners' children in Wales, who had to walk over rough roads in bare feet.

It is not only foreign children we are helping; it is British children as well. We are equally ready, I hope, to help all children who need our love and care, and I know well how many we have to help at home, both adults and children, but we can surely spare something for those other children, too. Only $25 a year maintains one child. If anyone would like to do that, or if any school would like to do so, they have only to give their names to Mr. Landsberg with their gift, and they can receive a photograph of the child and hear of his or her welfare.

Sir Philip Gibbs says: "The work of the 'Save the Children Fund' must not come to an end. It will never be finished until we have created the Kingdom of Heaven on earth. It must never come to an end until every child in the world possesses those rights which are laid down in the 'Declaration of Geneva,' the Magna Charta of the children of life."

MY GIFT FOR YOU

I have a little gift to give—
Alas, I cannot say
If it will smile and will to live,
Or sigh and slip away.

My budding gift is potted in
The red soil of my heart.
Will it to strength and sunlight win,
Or leaf by leaf depart.

I cannot tell; it is for you
To keep my gift alive;
With truth like sunlight, love like dew
To make the frail thing thrive.

I have a flowering gift of faith,
A little gift for you;
Ah, will you let it droop in death,
Or make it bloom anew?

OTTAWA, June 25.—Without any discussion, a bill authorizing a loan of $300,000 to the Harbor Commissioners of New Westminster, B.C., was given third reading in the House of Commons today.

NELSON, B.C., June 25.—Albert Edward Coles, twenty-one, student of the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, was drowned in the Columbia River this morning, when a boat in which he and Norman Berkley were crossing the river to Trail capsized. Paul Barach rescued Berkley. A search failed to locate Coles. Airplanes were used to look for the body without success. A mother survives in Vancouver.

HABEAS CORPUS HEARING ENDED

Judgment in Proceedings in Supreme Court Reserved by Mr. Justice Gregory

The question of the identity of Jung Suey Mee or Choy Hung Tin, whichever she may be, now awaits the decision on the appeal taken to Mr. Justice F. B. Gregory in the Supreme Court. Argument by counsel on the habeas corpus proceedings taken by C. H. O'Halloran and opposed by Lindley Crease, K.C., on behalf of the Department of Immigration, was presented to His Lordship yesterday forenoon. The court reserved its decision on the matters referred to him, and will hand down his finding at an early date.

Before the proceedings terminated yesterday, Mr. O'Halloran offered to tender the Chinese girl concerned in the application as a witness before His Lordship.

"That would be a rehearing," suggested Mr. Crease.

"No, no," returned Mr. O'Halloran.

"What right have I to hear her?" asked the court.

DISCHARGE GIRL

Mr. O'Halloran contended that His Lordship had the right to review, to quash or otherwise deal with the matter. He suggested that the court should discharge the girl from the custody of the immigration officers.

Mr. Justice Gregory said that if he found that there were irregularities he might release her from deportation, which now awaited her. This, however, did not mean that she should be free to go where she pleased.

Mr. O'Halloran admitted that there were still open to the department several recourses by which they could proceed against her under the criminal code.

DECISION UPHELD

Mr. Crease, earlier in the proceedings, pointed to the fact that the Minister had been appealed to and had upheld the decision of the controller of immigration here. He took the ground that the other officers of the department were empowered to hold inquiries as well as the controller if so requested. The inquiries were not necessarily required to be governed by the rules of strict judicial inquiries.

The court interjected that as far as the matter of fact connected with the case was concerned he felt that that was something which the immigration authorities had to deal with. They were accustomed to this and should be better able to judge. His duty was to look into the matter and see if any irregularity had been connected with it.

Mr. O'Halloran said that even if the question of domicile on the part of the girl was not established there was open to objection the fact that irregularities to which he had called attention which could be dealt with by the court. If the latter point only had been raised, then the evidence as to domicile would not have been before His Lordship.

STRIBLING DECIDES ON RING PLANS

Georgian Will Carry Fight to German in Championship Bout

HOPES TO LAND EARLY KNOCKOUT

GEAUGA LAKE, O., June 25 (AP).—Bill Stribling has decided just how he will fight Max Schmeling for the heavyweight championship in Cleveland Stadium the night before the fourth of July.

His plan of battle will go all the way back to the campaign theory of Jack Dempsey when he whipped Tommy Gibbons in fifteen rounds on another July 4 at Shelby, Mont., in 1923.

For the first five rounds the lean, powerful Southerner will pile into Schmeling, throwing every punch he has in an effort to sink the champion and win the title on a knockout. It will be a campaign of aggression, a charging attack built around left hooks to the body, left jabs to the head that Bill believes will prop the German up for the right-hand smashes to the chin that have foundered most of Stribling's 127 knockout victims. The record books show, too, that if Bill doesn't get his man in the first five rounds he usually doesn't get him at all.

Then if Schmeling still is on his feet at the end of five rounds, Stribling will coast for the next five.

Stribling plans then that the last five rounds, if the title hasn't already changed hands by that time, will be a repetition of the first five, with the Georgian again flinging everything in his armory in a final desperate effort to finish the champion before the fifteen rounds are over.

TEACHING PLAN WINS APPROVAL

which the special salary committee, shortly to be named, would be asked to propose values of remuneration.

Mr. Hinchliffe has already given an assurance that no existing contract will be interfered with, and that the general level of teaching salaries as it existed in the last school term will not be lowered.

FOR SERVICES RENDERED

While teachers were thus reassured, Mr. Hinchliffe also made it plain that he proposed to lay before the special committee on the question means of examining the nature of the work involved in each case, to arrive at standard bases of recognition for services rendered.

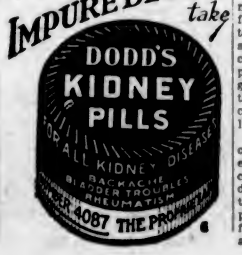

Excess salaries, which might be encouraged by the competition of school board with school board to secure picked teachers, may in future have to be borne by the areas concerned, Mr. Hinchliffe has indicated.

Naming of the special committee which will be asked to set a value for the duties of teachers in all different grades and types of schools will take place almost immediately, if the federation decides that the principle of the assisted school proposals can be generally applied to all schools in the province, the minister stated.

URGE DEFEAT OF CIVIC BY-LAWS

Speakers at Ratepayers' Meeting at Oaklands Oppose Three Projects

Strong opposition to the three civic money by-laws that will be placed before the ratepayers of Victoria on Monday was voiced by speakers at a meeting of the Victoria Ratepayers' Association, held in the Oaklands School last night. Those who addressed the meeting were Frank LeRoy, president of the association; Frank Higgins, K.C., Alderman R. T. Williams, W. C. Warner, vice-president, and Mrs. J. de Binquiere, a member of the executive.

"These by-laws which will be put before us are nothing but promotions," declared Mr. Higgins, "and from past experiences it can be vouched that they will be of no benefit to the people. We have had a good deal of experience with other schemes such as the grain elevator, the cold storage plant, the worsted mills, and it is time we saw that the same thing that happened in these cases does not happen again. The real question to be answered is not whether we want the airport, or the streets paved, but whether we can afford them, thus further mortgaging our property."

AIRPORT BY-LAW

Dealing with the airport by-law, Mr. Higgins stated that the Dominion Government has lost $6,000,000 experimenting with airports and has stopped, and he could see no reason why Victoria should continue.

Mr. LeRoy, who acted as chairman, in a short address, urged organized voting against the by-laws in order to assure protection of the homes of the ratepayers.

"This type of airport is fast going out of date," declared Alderman R. T. Williams, "and with the invention of new air machines that rise and descend almost vertically, it would be a waste of money to support the proposition."

Commenting upon recent statements made that he had not attended the meetings of the airport committee of the City Council, Alderman Williams said that he had attended every meeting of the committee of which he had been notified and that those at which he was not present were held in private. "Down with the by-laws," he concluded, "and go out on Monday and vote against them."

PAVING MEASURES

Mr. Warner also urged the defeat of the by-laws at the polls in an address that dealt fairly thoroughly with paving measures. "It would be well to see these streets paved, replacing the wood blocks," he said, "but at the present time it is not justifiable to go into such a scheme." Mr. Warner stated that the paving was not an absolute necessity, and during times like these everything has to be considered.

Mrs. de Binquiere spoke briefly, saying that the cost of the by-laws was placing a mortgage on the homes of the ratepayers that would last for thirty years, and supporting them was by no means a way to lower the mill rate of the city.

MAYORS ARE OPPOSED TO DOLE SYSTEM

While official intimation to the British Columbia Government did not expressly say so, it is understood here that the same plan will be adopted by the Federal Government with other Western provinces, to put an end to the east and west movement of transient unemployed, many of whom have been flocking into British Columbia in recent months. Registration of all unemployed may be insisted on as a definite measure to tabulate their number and normal places of residence.

PROGRAMME FORWARDED

While these measures were being considered as an immediate and temporary alleviation of the problem, British Columbia proposals for a definite programme of permanent highway construction have gone forward to Ottawa for approval. Immediately Federal aid is available for this work, the Province proposes to make a start on projects which, spreading over a wide area, would care for a great deal of the existing problem. Details of the works programme cannot be worked out until the question of Federal aid has been considered by the Dominion authorities.

In advance of official information of the action taken at the conference of municipal officials at Vancouver yesterday, Premier Tolmie declined last evening to comment on the report that the meeting had expressed its inability to meet the fifty-thirty-twenty ratio suggested as a temporary basis for relief, until major works may be placed under way. The whole matter was receiving the very careful attention of the Government, Premier Tolmie intimated.

CASE BEFORE CABINET

"The Federal Government has already announced its intention of meeting half the cost of providing for transients in the provinces, as a means of stopping the backward and forward flow of these men. This is a temporary plan, as we understand it, until work can be provided on some basis of benefit to the country as a whole. How far the province can go to meet the case is a matter which must be very carefully considered by the Cabinet, in the light of fresh circumstances," Premier Tolmie stated.

Unofficial estimates of the number of unemployed in British Columbia placed the figure at 32,000 yesterday, according to one member of the Government. Of this number, some 17,000 are believed to be centred in Greater Vancouver.

Settlement of the problem of the drifters, and determination of what proportion of the cost of relief and work to be borne by the respective authorities, are points which are now receiving the attention of the Federal and Provincial Governments, it is understood.

Meanwhile the province has asked leave to proceed on an extensive programme of permanent works at the earliest possible moment.

PREJUDICE AND PEACE

Sir Arthur Keith, in his rectorial address to the students of the University of Aberdeen, dealt with "The Place of Prejudice in Modern Civilization." There is that prejudice to be reckoned with in any attempt to weld the divers peoples of the world into a single tribe and with freedom from war. Sir Arthur gives his blessing to the doctrine of an ideal world, which is "nursed in hearts which throb with the good or compassionate side of their tribal nature." He warns them, however, that it is desirable to use their heads as well as their hearts and to realize that to obtain universal and perennial peace, "they must also reckon the price they would have to pay for it." The price is the racial birthright that Nature has bestowed.

In other words, the contention advanced by Sir Arthur is that to attain the ideal world, "people of all countries and continents must pool not only their national interests but they must also pool their bloods. Black, brown, yellow and white must give and take in marriage and distribute in a common progeny the inheritance which each has come by in their uphill struggle through the leagues of prehistoric time towards the present." It is this consummation that Sir Arthur Keith cannot contemplate as an eventuality. He says, indeed, that both head and heart would rise against it. Race prejudice, in his opinion, works for the ultimate good of mankind and must be given a definite place in our civilization. Then Sir Arthur goes on to say:

"The cost of maintaining our racialized world means a continuation of Nature's old scheme of inter-tribal rivalries and eternal competition. Without competition mankind can never progress; the price of progress is competition. Nature throughout the past has demanded that a people which seeks independence as well as peace can obtain those privileges in only one way—by being prepared to sacrifice its blood to secure them. Nature keeps her human orchard healthy by pruning; war is her pruning hook. We cannot dispense with her services. This harsh and repugnant forecast of man's future is wrung from me. The future of my dreams is a warless world. As a gardener, Nature has two sides, a good and a bad. She plants, and she also prunes. If we accept her, we have to accept her altogether. Sooner or later she brings the false prophet to book."

Sir Arthur regards the English-speaking peoples as having become more and more the custodians of peace. Those peoples, however, must recognize the part that prejudice plays in determining the fate of mankind. "They would find," he says, "that the spirit of self-determination, far from weakening, would grow in strength in all parts of the Empire. They need not fear the development of a local spirit. It might work—nay it would work—for the health of a nation. But there is an important proviso—the national heart must never master the national head. Prejudice has a very important place in the development of peoples; it bound and will continue to bind British nationalities together. But if union between their nationalities is to withstand the stresses of conflicting interests, the heart has to be strengthened by clear-sighted intelligence. The place of prejudice in modern civilization should be that of servant, not of master."

CIGARETTE SMOKING

Canada spent $50,000,000 on cigarettes last year. There is perhaps nothing more significant of an increase in a habit than the growth of cigarette smoking in the Dominion from 1,000,000,000 in 1913 to 5,000,000,000 in 1930. Consumption had doubled at the time the war ended. In 1926 it was almost 3,000,000,000; in 1928, 4,000,000,000, and last year 5,000,,000,000. The latter figure is far below the actual consumption because it does not take into account British and American brands. In regard to the latter, manufacturers who appeared before the Tariff Board said nearly a billion cigarettes are smuggled annually across the border and on all these Canada loses the duty.

Twenty years ago Canada was more of a cigar-smoking nation than it is today. In numerous instances cigarettes have replaced cigars. Pipe-smoking has also declined in the country. The tobacco growers as a whole do not suffer; in fact their prosperity has been increased, because there are more smokers now than there ever were. Smoking among women has swollen the treasuries of the cigarette makers, and women are held mainly responsible for the extraordinary increase in all countries in the consumption of tobacco. The worship of My Lady Nicotine has led to the employment of thousands of workers. It has benefited indirectly a number of persons that it would be difficult to estimate. It is one of the industries of the country which shows constant development.

BILINGUAL DOMINIONS

In Canada those who speak French as their mother tongue form about one-fourth of the whole population and are concentrated mainly in the single province of Quebec and some adjacent counties. In South Africa something like one-half of the whites are Boers, and they are found in large numbers not only in the Orange River and Transvaal provinces but also in rural areas of Cape Colony. Their language, the Afrikaans, has the same official status as French in Canada; that is, it has the same official status as English, is used in law courts and taught in schools. It is not certain, however, that it will be retained, as French has been.

French, like English, is one of the few highly developed languages of the world. It is the key to a great literature still living and expanding. Its continuance has been assisted by the fact that it is a religious as well as a social and cultural bond. Afrikaans, on the other hand, is a language that has originated in South Africa itself, and is spoken in no other country, is perpetuated nowhere else, and has no great literature. It is derived mainly from Dutch dialects in use in the areas from which the first settlers in South Africa came, nearly two centuries ago, but it differs from the standard Dutch language of today as French differs from Latin, or English from Saxon. According to Professor J. J. Smith, editor and compiler of the new standard Afrikaans dictionary, it first took on its present form among the farmers of Drakenstein and Stellenbosch about 1750. That a new language should develop and spread over the wide regions of South Africa from the Cape to the Northern Transvaal within less than two hundred years, throws some light on the short space of time within which European languages may have developed in prehistoric time.

The second official language of the Irish Free State, a variety of Gaelic, differs from French as does Afrikaans, in that it is not the key to a great literature. It differs from both French and Afrikaans in that it is not the language of the people anywhere in the world, even in the Irish Free State, itself. It is a purely artificial revival, or attempt at revival, of an ancient tongue, long disused. The Gaelic is doubtless a fine language, and much effort was put forth to force it upon the pupils and teachers of schools in the Irish Free State. Names of Irish cities and institutions were changed to combinations of alphabetical letters which no ordinary human being can pronunce. Of all these only one or two have become generally known,—Dail and Sein Fein—and it is said that the almost universal pronunciation of these is wholly incorrect. Despite all official edicts, the Irish Free State is not actually bilingual in any real sense of the term.

DEMANDS OF FASHION

It is the rapidity with which fashions change nowadays that has led people in most lands to demand cheaper types of clothing. The Prince of Wales, after his trip to South America, dwelt upon the desirability of British practice being changed, and instead of providing excellent quality and durability as features of clothing and other wares, to concentrate on the cheaper and more evanescent variety. This plea is emphasized by the Earl of Athlone, who has been speaking on the subject to the British Empire League. He says British manufacturers have to adjust their output because purchasers are preferring cheaper and inferior articles, and it is necessary to meet their needs if markets are to be held. In South Africa there are practically no English motor cars. It is the cheaper and less durable American variety that are in demand. It is the same with clothes. The Earl admits that he himself is much behind the times, as when he visited his tailor's recently he discovered that he was wearing a garment which he had had in his possession for twenty years. Fashion dictates demand in trade. It has become more an obsession with both women and men than ever before. Manufacturers have to bow before its dictates or suffer in loss of business.

There is something wrong with the incidence of income taxation in the Dominion. In the United States, with a population of 120,000,000, it is estimated that 380,000 persons pay 97 per cent of the income tax. In Canada 6,000 persons pay 96.5 per cent of the total collected from this source. There is no tax that is equitable that is unequal in its application.

ON PLANTING A WILLOW

Kind Autumn rains, fall gently down
Upon this little tree!
Sun, cherish it with friendly warmth,
That nourished it shall be!

Wild winds, be merciful and spare
Its young and tender shoots!
Snows, with protecting coverlets
Enfold these fragile roots!

God of all living things! In time,
A guardian tall and brave
Grant for dear memory's sake, 'twill watch
Over this well-loved grave!

And when I, too, come home to rest
With all my family,
May this same willow stretch long arms
In requiem over me!

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

There is a tide in the affairs of men, Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune.

—Shakespeare.

One of many old sayings is that you cannot squeeze blood out of a stone. Pondering over the interminable discussions about debts and reparations and indemnities this morning, we thought of a new and pertinent saying that you cannot squeeze money out of an empty purse. Germany says her purse is empty, and it appears that under international agreement she has the right to say she cannot meet her obligations under the Young Plan or under any plan which preceded the Young Plan, so that the Hoover Plan simply gives Germany the right to do something she had the right to do in any case, and which circumstances would have compelled her to do without sanction of the United States or any other power, with the single exception of France, which seems to occupy the position of a preferred creditor. The preferential position of France is no doubt due to the fact that the devastating effects of the war were felt chiefly by that nation.

That is why France has not joined in the universal acclaim which has greeted the Hoover Plan. That is why France hesitates to accept the plan except under certain conditions. There is a general belief that if Germany is permitted to cease meeting her payments she will never resume payments, and the ultimate result will be a general cancellation of all the debts incurred in the war, and that all this world, released from bondage, would immediately emerge from a state of acute business depression to a state of business expansion and general prosperity. But France, remembering her last misunderstanding with Germany, and the consequences of it, hesitates to forego her right to reparations and indemnities. The other Great Powers may believe in their hearts that the old score as between France and Germany has been settled by the indemnities which already have been paid and that the time has come for Europe to resume business with a clean balance sheet, but that does not appear to be the view of France.

All the reactions to and repercussions from the war have been peculiar. Immediately after the declaration of peace Germany appeared to have reacted from the effects of the war with a bound. For several years Germany appeared to be the most prosperous nation in the world and Great Britain the least prosperous nation in the world. The spoils of victory appeared then to have been reaped by the vanquished and the victors to have gained nothing but poverty and empty honors. Business boomed in Germany and everybody was employed. The German shipyards began to build ships and to boast that their merchant marine would soon be restored to its former pre-eminent position upon the highways of the oceans. Germany even entertained an ambition to replace the fleet of warships which was sunk in Scapa Flow by a more up-to-date and powerful fleet. She constructed one ship which is said to be better adapted to modern conditions of sea warfare than any single craft in the British or any other navy.

Then the tide in the affairs of Germany turned. Germany suffered a business and industrial relapse, and France became the most prosperous of all the nations. Reparations flowed into the coffers of France and the United States and stayed there. Reparations flowed into the treasury of Great Britain too, but they did not stay there. They were paid out to meet the claims of the United States. One of the reactions to this process was that France and the United States succeeded Germany as the most prosperous nation in the world. The ultimate reaction was that vast accumulations of gold in the United States and France could not save those countries from the consequences of the general business depression.

The final reaction to the consequences of the war is the grand gesture of President Hoover, which, of course, has been hailed with great acclaim throughout almost every part of the world except France and Italy. Both France and Italy may accept the proposal—with reservations. France wants certain assurances about the resumption of payments by Germany. Italy wants certain political conditions attached to the moratorium, appertaining to her relations with Austria. The public at large has reacted to the proposal with a flurry of speculation in stocks. That is one of the peculiar attributes of the public. It is always looking for something which appears to furnish an opportunity for a speculative flutter. If there is a change in the weather, the speculator will gamble upon wheat, or corn, or cotton. If there are signs of a change in the political atmosphere, the gambler will take a chance upon the stock market. But whether the nations agree upon the "proposition" of President Hoover or cannot agree upon it, there will be a final grand reaction. The President has proposed a one-year moratorium. Germany has the right to take a two-year moratorium, and if blood cannot be squeezed out of a stone, or money picked out of an empty purse, what can be done about it?

LOCAL DOG SHOW

Sir,—For Mr. Munckton's benefit, I wish to state that the entries for this event were scheduled to close on May 8, but in order to take care of any late entries, the time was extended to midnight, May 12, as advertised in both local papers.

Mr. Munckton's letter regarding his entry, which only stated the breed and name of the dog, was received on the morning of May 14. In order to enter any dog at any show licensed by the Canadian Kennel Club, the entry must be made on the proper forms provided, which call for a good deal more particulars than the name and breed of the dog, also it must be accompanied by the entry fee and be received by the stated time.

SLAVERY

Sir,—In reply to the letter from Mr. A. B. Sanders, I know nothing of slavery in the Bible and do not enjoy a slave mentality but there are so many different forms of slavery. His astonishing outburst is built up on a harmless sentence in my letter to Mr. Wiggs on war. As regards the rest of the letter, is not Mr. Wiggs mixing up the terms slave and servant? They are not synonyms. Here I have not ventured an opinion of what I know nothing about.

The last sentence of his letter argues considerable acquaintance with the letters I have written previously and I am blushing all down my back with pleasure; in fact I am sitting in pools of blush, but I hope Mr. Sanders will not snap me in that humiliating position. I have not the pleasure of knowing you so it is impossible to form any opinion except from your letter which is truly devastating. But if you belong to the peace-at-any-price men, the defeatists, the illusionists, or the men-with-moral-gestures, then we should prove a very ill-assorted couple.

CHURCH OF SCOTLAND

Sir,—In last Saturday's Colonist, page thirteen, I read, "Church of Scotland Holds Second Annual Assembly in Capital (Edinburgh)," which is not correct, as the Church of Scotland has for many hundreds of years held its annual assembly.

The writer having corrected that point before, I trust it will not be necessary to do so again.

ELK LAKE AS AIRPORT

Sir,—I am interested in the city of Victoria and I have to pay taxes as well as other taxpayers. I see that there is a by-law to be voted on shortly for an airport.

What is the matter with Elk Lake? It is in a direct line with the northern route, has water and land for landing sites, with roads all around it that cost thousands of dollars to build, and five times as big as the one which they are going to pay about a third of a million dollars for.

I think it will be like the old rice mills, Johnson Street bridge, grain elevator, cold storage and Esquimalt waterworks.

Elk Lake property (sheltered on all sides, with natural beacon points in Bear Hill, 600 feet, and Little Saanich Mountain, 700 feet, immediately adjacent) is only a bill of expense to the city at present. If Vancouver had that which nature has made, I consider they would certainly use it.

It won't interfere with our irrigation scheme. We have a good dam site on Haldon and Marcotte lands. It is a big basin and could be made very easily.

RICHARD THOMSON.

Saanichton, B.C., June 25, 1931.

AIRPORT BY-LAW

Sir,—Is it possible that Victoria ratepayers will deliberately put themselves "off the map" by killing the Airport By-Law? It almost looks like it, if those who have so far done most of the talking represent the majority.

After spending $25,000 a year in boosting and propaganda it seems so inconsistent to deny the prospective visitors of the future a hospitable and safe landing. However, it is the big silent vote that usually swings the balance, but it is those who don't bother to vote, though they may be in favor of the by-law, who really kill it because the "ants" are out to record every vote.

A good deal is being said about prices of the land, and in regard to that I can only state that I owned about thirty-five acres of the piece to be bought, in the year 1920, and sold it at that date in small parcels for five hundred dollars ($500) per acre, at which time it was bush land and full of stumps, and it has cost at least $250 per acre to put it in its present state of cultivation.

I would also state that one of my sons tried to start a flying company here, but was blocked by lack of a field and has gone to Prince Rupert and successfully started one there.

If we wish to keep our sons in British Columbia we must grow with the times, and flying as a means of transportation is coming much more quickly than most of us realize, and at least 90 per cent of planes are land planes.

And so you who wish to be progressive and want Victoria to grow must come out and not only record your vote but see that all your friends do likewise.

R. B. PUNNETT.

Pemberton Building, Victoria, B.C., June 23, 1931.

AIRPORT BY-LAW

Sir,—I have read with considerable interest the different letters addressed to you regarding the civic by-laws to be submitted this month to the property owners of Victoria. In spite of hard times, heavy taxation and a still very uncertain future it seems most lamentable that we, as taxpayers, should be called upon to dig still deeper into our pockets and foot a bill which runs well over a quarter of a million dollars. Surely in times like these it would be the wisest policy to keep the city taxation down to the lowest possible level; to hang onto what we already have and make every endeavor to prevent further lands reverting back to the city and becoming a still heavier drain upon the whole community.

One wonders when reading some of the very brightly painted and lurid descriptions of this new airport what there is behind it. Who is to benefit? There must be some definite reason. If it is to be such a paying proposition why has not some airplane company already located itself here and financed the project? They, one and all, know only too well they would never get the money from the public on such a highly speculative proposition. Yet here we have our own aldermen—men paid by the taxpayers to keep down our overhead expenses—interesting themselves and striving in an endeavor to pile on further taxation to what must be admitted is already a very staggering load.

Victoria has been most unfortunate in the past with bad administrators, especially the last few, of which Hayward's cemetery and Pendray's colossal error in the elevator and cold storage plant stand well in the limelight and are likely to be felt by the taxpayer for many years yet to come.

It seems high time for the citizens of Victoria to definitely get together to find an end to this state of affairs and run things as they should be run. Why should taxpayers have to pay $25,000 per year to the publicity bureau? In other cities transportation companies, hotels and store owners have to foot this bill as they are the ones to benefit. How much does the average citizen in Victoria benefit from the tourist business? His aim to look after the city and feel proud of it surely should be enough if he can pay his taxes every year and keep a roof over his head. If tourists are to be advertised for let those who are to make money from them pay for the publicity.

In conclusion, I would like to state once again, I have followed up the letters you have had in your columns from time to time, and also your editorials, and can only surmise from them, as can a great many others, that of all the people in the city's administration there is only one outstanding member who really does appear to have the interests of the taxpayer at heart, and that is R. T. Williams. He has received many rebuffs and has been ridiculed many times by his fellow aldermen and by the mayor, but the fact remains he has received them fighting for a lowering of taxation, and so is well worthy of the support of the whole community.

The year is already half gone. Before long there will be another municipal election. Now is the time to commence discussing it and the prospective candidates. The very handsome remuneration this city hands out in salaries should, especially in these times, amply suffice to attract the services of really eminent men whose aim will be to run the city as it should be run and not as a colossal burden financially to the unfortunate property owner who has to live in it.

OLIVER J. WILLIAMS.

MUNICIPAL FINANCES

Sir,—The crucial test of the well-being of any city is the per capita amount of its bonded (mortgage) indebtedness.

The National Municipal Review for this month gives this per capita for 243 cities in the United States (and fourteen in Canada), the former being shown in five groups:

Group 1, having populations of 500,000 and over.

Group 2, having populations of 300,000 to 500,000.

Group 3, having populations of 100,000 to 300,000.

Group 4, having populations of 50,000 to 100,000.

Group 5, having populations of 30,000 to 50,000.

Canadian cities are in one separate group, ranging from a population of 39,000 in Three Rivers in Quebec to Montreal with a population of 790,000, the per capita ranging from $68.66 in Ottawa, with a population of 125,400, to $217.62 in Victoria, with a population of 42,000—the next highest in the Canadian group being Vancouver, with a per capita of $167.05.

Of the total of 257 cities there are only five higher than Victoria and very few approaching it. In the face of this crushing indebtedness we are asked by our council to increase it $7.50 per head, making our per capita $225.12, ranking us sixth in the highest per capita cities in all these groups.

For the airport loan of $240,000 we shall have to pay in interest and principal $452,385, plus incidental charges.

Ratepayers should be informed that they are forced to renew a loan of $200,000 this year, continuing our present indebtedness. They should be informed of the following, as the last 1930 Annual Report is misleading:

1. Our present total indebtedness.
2. Sinking fund on hand now.
3. Sinking fund which should be on hand.
4. Probable deficit at the end of current year.
5. Probable mill rate next year (inevitably more than this) if proposed loan by-laws are not passed.
6. Probable mill rate next year if proposed loan by-laws are passed.
7. What concessions has our council agreed to give on the sly to Saanich municipality as a quid pro quo for the thousands and thousands of dollars' worth of roads necessitated by the proposed airport in Saanich referred to by Reeve Crouch in our daily papers a few days ago.

It is submitted that the ratepayers' objective at this juncture should be reduction of our mortgage indebtedness instead of increase.

An Income of $100 a Month That You Cannot Lose

Think of it—a monthly income that you could not outlive, that would follow you everywhere, that no business depression could destroy, that no employer could cancel! Isn't this what you would like to have?

Saving money and getting the interest on it would be one way to secure such an income, of course, but very few people can save money for retirement. You know how it is—something always comes along to wipe out the savings. Money which can be easily withdrawn is easily spent. Savings must be kept safe, "even from the saver," if he is to have them later on. And suppose you became totally disabled and your earning power stopped completely before you had enough money saved to take care of you, is there any ordinary savings plan that would provide you with the income you need?

There is a plan, a genuine, workable idea for providing you with an income of $100 a month—or whatever amount you decide—for your later years or if you become totally disabled. Don't think because this Plan is being advertised to you by the Canada Life that it is only "more insurance." Its purpose is to make your independent of friends, relatives or the heartlessness of an employer when you get on in years and your earning powers fall lower and lower, as they will.

The Plan requires a little effort, of course, but is it not wiser to face the facts about your future now than to wait until it is too late? The Canada Life Plan is helping thousands of others; why not you?

If you are a thrifty, forward-looking Canadian, wishing to avoid dependence on any one for your support in your old age, we can help you.

These ran from $925,389.54 to $1,003,584.50. The lowest tender for the connecting pipe was for $218,134.90.

ORIENT HAS ITS LESSONS TO IMPART

Dr. John MacKay Says Culture of Far East Cannot Be Ignored

MAKES APPEAL FOR FRIENDLY RELATIONS

Rev. John MacKay, D.D., of Manitoba College, formerly principal of Westminster College in Vancouver, yesterday urged members of the Victoria Rotary Club, in common with other citizens of this country, to take full advantage of the opportunity of cultivating a knowledge of the Orient and ascertaining what the countries of the East had to contribute in the matter of culture.

Coming from a conference held on Bowen Island, when matters connected with the relationships of Pacific nations were discussed, the speaker made a strong appeal for the unification of races in an endeavor to solve the great questions the world was facing.

"There never was a time when forces more mighty were being released in the world for good or for ill than at the present time. The people of our race and our way of thinking must face seriously the study of the great cultures of the world other than our own," he said.

TOO ISOLATED

The British people had become great in building up a civilization, keeping remote to a large extent from the cultures of other races. Perhaps in the past they had underestimated too much the other cultures of the world. There had been a tendency in the past to look upon Oriental peoples as inferior.

In common with others who had had the opportunity of attending conferences with these people, Dr. MacKay said "the best men and women of the Oriental civilizations compared most favorably with the best men and women of ours. The civilization of the Oriental countries extends back thousands of years to a time when our ancestors were barbarians."

Having attended two of the Pacific Relations Conferences, Dr. MacKay has had the opportunity of obtaining a very good idea of the character of the peoples from the Oriental countries, who were in attendance. In the new relations with the Orient, a great responsibility, he felt, rested with the people of British Columbia, and Victoria, as the outpost in this country, in interpreting the mind of the Orient with respect to the rest of the Empire.

HIGH CULTURE

Chinese people thousands of years ago had attained a very high standard of civilization. On account of the age of that culture, it could not be ignored and passed over lightly. Coupled with this was the culture of Japan which united that old culture of the Orient and which had coalesced with it the more modern culture. The fine graces of the people there put "our civilization to shame." This was true of both Japan and China, he said.

On this continent there was need of learning more of the value of leisure. Perhaps the Orient had overestimated this side, and as a result had fallen behind in the race. Included with the countries of Japan and China the speaker coupled India with its old civilization. He was glad that the public men of Great Britain were appreciating the situation there, and that there was something better for India in prospect.

PLEA FOR GOOD WILL

The speaker urged that the relations which were established between the residents of this country and those who came from the Orient to live here should be such as to establish good will. "Every laundryman from China who resides here is an ambassador for good or for ill with us. We cannot afford to treat with contempt even the humblest of these people among us."

China was arousing from its slumber, he said, and was reconstructing its civilization.

It was going forward at a rapid rate, more rapid than was realized. It offered great opportunities for this country in trade and commerce.

NEW UNDERSTANDING

At the same time he liked to think that there was something higher than trade and commerce which, it must be admitted, had been a most destructive force in the world. There must be a new understanding in the world among the various nations, as to the part which each had in the civilization of the day. Peace could not be guaranteed to the world unless there was a guarantee of friendly relations among the peoples of the world.

"There is a dangerous situation in the world today, fraught with great possibilities. It is essential that we should not be good British Columbians, good Canadians or good Britishers alone. There must be a wider outlook. If we fail in this, the world is going to be the poorer," Dr. MacKay concluded.

SALE OF ROSES TO TAKE PLACE

Alexandra Rose Day Will Be Commemorated by Local I.O.D.E. Chapters

The Daughters of the Empire will tomorrow observe Alexandra Rose Day by the sale of the dainty little pink boutonniere, which originated under the kindly patronage of the late Queen Alexandra, who every year displayed the keenest interest in the collection made in her name in behalf of the needy.

The proceeds from the sale of the roses at the various stations of the local chapters in the business section of the city will be devoted to the child welfare and maternity work of the order in Victoria. In this connection it is timely to point out the splendid unassuming work of the I.O.D.E. social service committee under the able convenership of Mrs. George Miles, and there are many instances of their kindly interest and unobtrusive assistance.

MATERIAL ASSISTANCE

The child welfare work has consisted mainly of furnishing milk and necessary body-building foods for children in homes which do not ask for or receive help from any organization, but try to struggle along without outside assistance, and the maternity aid includes the provision of adequate supplies and layettes to give to expectant mothers.

Headquarters for the day's activities have been established at the corner of View and Broad Streets, where at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning members of the order will be supplied with quantities of the roses to sell at their allotted stations.

Under the auspices of the Liberal Women's Forum a silver tea will be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Scott, 2290 Woodlawn Crescent (off Monterey Avenue), from 3 to 6 o'clock.

CASE GOES TO HIGHER COURT

Magistrate Jay Commits D. Pallantier for Trial on Shooting Charge

Dominic Pallantier, Roderick Street, Saanich, must stand trial in a higher court on a charge of shooting with intent to maim Ernest Kruse, Magistrate George Jay ruled in the Saanich police court yesterday, at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing.

His worship said that the evidence pointed out that holes in the clothing worn by Kruse were apparently caused by shots alleged to have been fired by the accused. "The practice of using a gun is one that should be discouraged," he said, in committing Pallantier for trial.

H. A. Maclean, K.C., defence counsel, argued that no case had been made out against the accused. "Kruse attacked Pallantier because he could not get beer and the other man stood by and did not interfere. The man who started the trouble got off scot-free. There is no evidence to show who fired the shots. A number of people were there and nobody knew who did it; if Kruse was shot there at all. The man who ought to be on trial for the trouble that took place that night is Kruse," Mr. Maclean claimed.

E. L. Tait, Saanich prosecutor, submitted that a case had been established and warranted the accused being sent up for trial.

OBJECTS TO EVIDENCE

Objection to the evidence of Chief Allan Rankin, of Saanich, the main prosecution witness, was voiced by defence counsel on the ground that the police had asked the accused questions. Chief Rankin pointed out that he gave Pallantier the statutory warning, but the accused had just kept on talking.

On the witness stand, Chief Rankin stated that Pallantier told him that Kruse came to the house to try and make trouble about some woman in town. "He no want to come here. I get gun, I kill," Pallantier said, according to witness.

The gun, a .32 revolver, and five cartridges were entered by the prosecution as exhibits in the case.

Charles Bright, 124 Kingston Street, stated that he went to the Pallantier home with Sarah Lumley and Ernest Kruse. He admitted that the party visited a local beer parlor before going to Roderick Street, where the accused lived, and corroborated the evidence of the other members of his party. George Rogers, another witness, told of hearing a shot fired and hearing Kruse say he was shot.

HEARD ARGUMENT

William Spaven, 756 Roderick Street, said he came home from work at 11:30 o'clock on the night of June 12 and heard an argument outside Pallantier's home, which is across the street from his own. He later heard a shot and subsequently called the police. Mrs. Spaven corroborated the evidence, except for the fact that she stated she heard two shots in close sequence of each other.

Mrs. Gladys Loyal was called by defence counsel to testify to the bruises which Pallantier had shown her on the night of the trouble. She stated that there were marks on the left forehead, left arm and left breast.

Questioned by E. L. Tait, Mrs. Loyal said she was awakened by a shot. She heard two shots, one closely following the other, she stated.

Court of Appeal

Victoria Sittings

Andler et al. (R) vs. Duke et al. (A).—In this action, respondents sought to enforce and obtain the benefit of a judgment recovered by them against appellants in the State of California. The judgment affected a valuable piece of property in the city of Victoria known as the Promis Block. Appellants contended that the court giving the judgment had not jurisdiction, and further, that if binding in California it was of no avail in British Columbia. The trial judge found that the judgment was binding and effectual in California. It appeared that a deed to the property in question had been obtained by fraud, and after registration of title under the deed the property had been conveyed to one of the appellants.

All the parties to the action were resident in the State of California and the defendants to the action duly entered an appearance. The jurisdiction being thus constituted, a trial was held in due course. The decision of the judge was confirmed upon appeal. The trial judge held that the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the courts in California were completely binding upon the parties to the action there. He decided that respondents, pursuant to the judgment of the court of California and a conveyance duly executed by the clerk of that court pursuant to directions contained in the judgment, were the owners in fee simple of the property and entitled to be registered accordingly.

In the Court of Appeal appellants argued that the court of California had no jurisdiction to adjudicate on the title to land in British Columbia, and even if that court had jurisdiction, its judgment was not enforceable in British Columbia.

The Court of Appeal reserved judgment.

A. D. Crease for appellants; A Bull for respondents.

Attorney-General for the Province of British Columbia (A) vs. British Columbia Sugar Refining Co., Limited (R).—This is an appeal from the decision of the judge of the court of revision held in Vancouver. It was contended on behalf of the Crown that certain income of respondent should be assessed for income tax. The income from bonds and shares which were held at the head office of the company in Vancouver. The dividend cheques and remittances for interest on the bonds were mailed to the company in Vancouver, endorsed by the company for deposit in a savings account in the Bank of Montreal in Montreal, and mailed to the bank. The income was carried into the profit and loss account but not used to pay dividends or for any other purpose than to buy more bonds or shares for investment. No funds had been transferred from this special savings account to the company's bank account in British Columbia. The profit and loss account showed sufficient funds on hand to pay a dividend without touching the funds in Montreal. There was a special income account in respondent's books here in which the income from the shares and bonds in question was entered. The judge of the court of revision held that the income so dealt with was exempt from assessment for income tax under the Taxation Act of British Columbia. The hearing of the appeal is continuing.

E. Peplar for the Crown; D. N. Hossie for respondent.

CANCER

If June 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 3:15 p.m. to 5:15 p.m., and from 6:30 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. The danger hours are from 1:15 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 9 p.m. to 11:15 p.m.

The astrological influences in force on June 26 are of a calm nature, and this should prove to be a propitious day for the ambitious, energetic individual. The astral influences are of too neutral a nature to defeat determined efforts.

The child born on this June 26 will possess a rather streng personality, and inclined to be a trifle obstinately self-willed. This, however, will be offset by a very loyal and loving nature. A desire to accomplish and execute will be another characteristic.

Born on June 26, you have a tredendous gift for making and holding valuable friendships. You, however, only lavish your attention upon people who are in sympathy with your ideas, and in this way show yourself to be rather selfish. You are very headstrong and independent, and love variety in your work and pleasure. This desire for variety has caused you to travel and have many interesting experiences, and as you have an observant and quickly assimilating mentality, you have succeeded in becoming a brilliant and interesting conversationalist.

Your career will be very successful, and what you will accomplish will be entirely through your own initiative. You work better by yourself, as your nature is too self-opinionated and argumentative to work in harmony with other people. What you earn, you usually spend, as you have a desire for perfection and for extreme comfort. You enjoy helping other people, but are somewhat inclined to lose interest before your help proves of any real value. Love of family is very deeply imbedded in your make-up. Your love of home is very strong, constant and idealistic, and any breaking up in your family would come as a tremendous shock.

London Theatres Face Outburst of Biblical Plays

LONDON, June 25 (AP).—Is London in for a burst of biblical plays? On Monday night a French company gave a stage presentation of the story of Noah. Tuesday night, at the Royalty Theatre, the Cambridge Festival Players produced "Judas," by F. V. Ratti, translated by F. O. Dempsey.

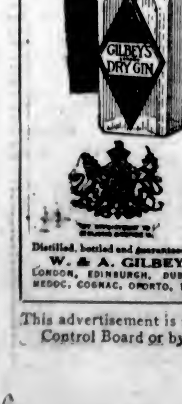

London's dramatic critics look with disfavor upon the "Judas" play. There is nothing in it to offend the religious senses, but as an exercise of diversion for the intellect the play is written down as feeble in the extreme.

It is based on the assumption that Judas was a much-maligned man. Such an assumption is even more gratuitous, observers assert, than the effort made to whitewash another New Testament character by a certain bygone best-seller among the lady novelists.

It is complained that the author comes sadly to grief attempting to paraphrase the language of the Bible. And the scenery, for such a play, is deemed an affront.

New Postal Rates Effective Wednesday Next

POSTMASTER G. H. Gardiner has issued the following information pertaining to the new postal rates, which become effective on Wednesday next:

In connection with the increase of postage rates effective on July 1, which provides that the two cent letter rate be raised to three cents, excepting for letters posted at a particular postoffice for local delivery, the mailing public is reminded that, so far as Victoria is concerned, the two cent rate applies to letters posted in the Victoria letter carrier area intended for delivery in the letter carrier area, which includes all Victoria City, all Oak Bay, practically all of Esquimalt and practically the whole part of lower Saanich, where the houses are numbered.

Letters intended for delivery on rural routes or at any of the outside postoffices, such as Sevenoaks, Lake Hill, Marigold, Cadboro Bay, Mount Tolmie and Glyn, must be paid at the three cent rate. There is no change in the rate of postcards nor in the airmail rates.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases, and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid, and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take, and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. (Advt.)

Two Vancouver-built Boeing flying boats, with capacity of five passengers each, will be used in the service, with two others in reserve. The Boeing Aircraft of Canada, Ltd., is co-operating in the service.

Pageant Rehearsal — The usual Friday night rehearsal for the Diamond Jubilee pageant will be held tonight on the top floor of the Campbell Building instead of in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Grant Is Made — The Saanich Council last night made a grant of $20 to the North and South Saanich Horticultural Society to help defray expenses of the annual show tomorrow at the Saanichton Agricultural Hall.

Troops to Mobilize — Owing to mobilization which will be held tonight and Saturday, the public is warned not to be alarmed at any heavy gun firing which might occur during the early hours of the morning in that period.

Returns to Council—Councillor Hew Paterson, who for a period has been unable, owing to a severe illness, to attend the Oak Bay Council meetings, was in his place again at the Council session yesterday. He was accorded a hearty welcome by Reeve Hayward and the other members of the council upon his return.

Still Case Remanded—At the request of W. C. Moresby, K.C., defence counsel, the charge against Louis Orrico of allowing a still to be kept on premises on Shelbourne Street controlled by him, was remanded for one week in the Saanich police court yesterday afternoon. R. A. Wootton is representing the Excise Department.

Mailing Time Changed—Because of the change in the hour of the afternoon boat's departure from Victoria, Postmaster G. H. Gardiner announced yesterday that mails for Vancouver and Eastern points will now close at 1 o'clock each afternoon instead of 1:15 o'clock, as heretofore. This change is effective as from Sunday, June 28.

Search Is Futile — Search for Edward Williams, eleven-year-old boy, believed to have been drowned in the Inner Harbor on Tuesday night, continued yesterday and last night without success. A diver went down early yesterday morning and dragging operations were carried out by the police until darkness prevented a further search.

Named Historic Site—Craigflower School, the oldest existing school in British Columbia, has been declared a "historic object," in action taken by the Provincial Government yesterday. A bronze plaque suitably commemorating the event will be presented to organizations planning the celebration of anniversary ceremonies at the site. The schoolhouse was built in 1854.

Wins Essay Contest — Friends of Mrs. Cecil Hodson, of San Francisco, who was well known in Victoria as Miss Hazel McConnell, a former teacher on the High School staff prior to her marriage a few years ago, will be interested in the news of her success in an essay contest conducted by The San Francisco News recently. Mrs. Hodson was first prize winner in the competition styled "Sally's Budget Contest."

Re-establish Services — After negotiations between the Saanich Council and officials of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Ltd., at the Municipal Hall, Royal Oak, last evening, it was announced that services with altered schedules would be re-established on the following lines: Old West Road and Keating Crossroad, British Columbia Electric Railway right-of-way between Marigold and Wilkinson Road, and Eberts.

Complains of Foxes—The matter of foxes in the residential areas came before the Saanich Council again last night in a letter from T. J. Thompson, who complained of the pens on Whittier Avenue. In this connection a report from the medical health officer and sanitary inspector was read, and it stated that the residential districts were not suitable for a fox area. The council decided to call a meeting on July 8 to specially deal with the matter.

Attend Luncheon — The visiting English football players were guests at the Rotary Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday. Alderman James Adam introduced the officials accompanying the players, paying a compliment to them and the officers of the Dominion Football Association. C. Wreyford-Brown introduced the players. John Russell, president of the Dominion Football Association, presented H. J. Pendray with a badge of the Dominion body in recognition of the hospitality he had tendered the visitors at his home.

Would Build Crematorium—Permission to erect in Saanich a crematorium to cost in the neighborhood of $3,000, was sought at last night's meeting of the Saanich Council by Ex-Alderman E. S. Woodward. It is proposed to build the structure on the McCrae estate, on the northeast boundary of the city of Victoria. Mr. Woodward stated that he was representing the Cremation Society of Vancouver Island. The council decided to have Councillor F. Borden, R. R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, and H. Allen, municipal engineer, bring in a report before granting permission.

Lack of Pressure—The upper part of Dewdney Avenue, near the Uplands, during the Summer months will be given some extra pressure so far as the water main is concerned. The Oak Bay municipal engineer was authorized at the meeting of the council yesterday to connect the main there with the high pressure system from the Uplands, which would remedy the situation. Complaint was made by J. H. Frank and eight others that at times water was difficult to obtain in their houses. The engineer reported that the action approved would remedy the matter. It was announced it would be required only during certain seasons.

To Consider Appeal—The Saanich School Board last night approached the Saanich Council, asking its endorsement in the matter of appealing the judgment given against the board for $1,272 by Justice D. A. McDonald in connection with thirteen students attending the Victoria High School. The members of the council felt that they would like to be given time to consider the matter and decided to lay it over for a week.

CARNERA TO SHOW IN TORONTO RING ON TUESDAY NIGHT

TORONTO, June 25 (CP).—Instead of meeting Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, here next Tuesday, Primo Carnera, giant Italian boxer, will fight "Bub" Gorman, of Kenosha, Wis. Gorman was secured to oppose Carnera following inability of Jack Corcoran, manager of the Queensbury Athletic Club, to come to terms with Renault.

10 TO 1 YOU'RE NOT AN ATHLETE
2 TO 1 YOU'VE GOT

"ATHLETE'S FOOT"

. . . now threatening everybody in Canada

Even the daintiest of women, the most fastidious of men, are victims of ringworm of the toes, now commonly called "Athlete's Foot." It's caused by a vegetable parasite which actually thrives in clean places—the very places where we go for health and recreation and cleanliness—on the edges of swimming pools and showers—on locker- and dressing-room floors. And from all these places, it is being tracked into countless homes.

It is no disgrace to have it, though most of us don't like to talk about that moist, white skin condition between the toes. It seems hardly "nice." Again this infection may show itself in redness, or by tiny itching blisters; or an unnatural dryness with little scales.

Official reports show that "at least half of all adults suffer from ringworm (of the toes) at some time."

Absorbine Jr. Kills this Germ and Checks "Athlete's Foot" Safely!

Relief is easy and generally certain, for it has been found by exacting laboratory tests that Absorbine Jr. penetrates flesh-like tissues deeply and that wherever it penetrates it kills the ringworm germ.

Take no chances! At the first sign of infection douse Absorbine Jr. on the feet morning and evening. Use it to prevent infection after every exposure of bare feet to damp floors. If it does not yield readily, see your doctor.

You have always found Absorbine Jr. fully efficient in relieving rheumatic aches and pains, strains, sore muscles and bruises—and in healing cuts and sunburn—you will find it just as good for "Athlete's Foot." At all druggists'—$1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Lyman Bldg., Montreal.

Old English Fair

The Old English Fair, held under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Nanaimo Hospital, yesterday, was well patronized, despite weather conditions. The grounds presented a gala effect during the afternoon, but owing to the drizzling rain, booths were later moved indoors, where the evening patrons were entertained. Mrs. Joseph Nicholls and Mrs. Turner were joint conveners; and Mrs. R. T. Wilson and Mrs. J. Scales were joint conveners of the musical programme. Miss Humphreys and Mrs. Frank Reynolds were the vocalists. Boy Scout tumblers gave a fine exhibition and the Little Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of J. L. Reynolds, contributed a number of selections. A lovely supper was served to forty-five people by a committee headed by Mrs. Annie Wilson, assisted by Mrs. Hope and Mrs. H. Wilson. Mayor Hall spoke in an interesting vein prior to officially opening the event. Fortunes were read by Mrs. Lightfoot and Mrs. Levi Dendoff that made the seekers of the future gasp with amazement. Returns From Vancouver

Miss Eleanor Everall has returned home from a visit with Professor and Mrs. Robinson in Vancouver.

It happened at the Pan-American Airways' landing field in Miami. Three giant-sized planes were loaded with New Yorkers and others who were making one of those two-and-a-quarter-hour voyages to Havana, where the firewater is inexpensive and potent.

"Where are all those people flying to?" asked a Broadwayite.

"To Havana," acidly replied a debutante, "they are Americans—and they are going to Havana to celebrate their independence."

Milady Goes Forth in Organdie and Chiffon

A SHELL pink embroidered organdie evening gown which has an organdie frill about the peplum as well as the hem (1). A black velvet sash forms a bow at the side. (2) The popular profile hat which dips coquettishly over the left ear. It is of black panamalac pattern with a garland of white gardenias arranged against the hair on the left side. (3) A bell-shaped gown of yellow souffle for Summer, the bell-shaped sleeves following the line of the peplum and the lower flare of the tiered skirt.

Chapter Sets July 11 for Garden Fete

Preliminary plans were made at the monthly meeting of the Valentine Harvey-Beaumont Boggs Chapter, I.O.D.E., yesterday afternoon for a garden party to be held on Saturday, July 11, for which Mrs. H. P. Bagley has offered the use of her home, "Tanglin," 645 Foul Bay Road. The members met at the home of Mrs. C. T. Hughes, Balfour Avenue, and the regent, Mrs. D. P. W. Maunsell, presided. There was a good attendance and the usual routine reports were received. A donation was voted to the secondary educational work of the order.

Mrs. E. L. Byng, a new member, was welcomed by the members. Mrs. R. R. Watson was appointed child welfare convener and Mrs. F. J. Boughton was made convener for the chapter's corner at The Times and Pemberton Buildings, for Alexandra Rose Day.

Island Social Notes

Metchosin

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Ellwood and daughters Valerie, Beth and Gwennie May, have returned home from their fortnight's holiday at Ladnor, where they have been the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Grimson at their Summer residence, Beach Grove. They report having spent a very delightful holiday in spite of the bad weather.

The Metchosin W.A. garden party held Wednesday afternoon in the grounds of the Misses Chegwin and Colonel and Mrs. Osborne, jointly, was a great success in spite of the bad weather. Tea was spread in the Misses Chegwins' garden, and the games and sports for juniors took place in Colonel Osborne's grounds, Rev. Mr. Bolton convening the sports. Tea conveners were Miss Blythe, Misses Chegwin and Mrs. Osborne, ably assisted by other members of the W.A. Waitresses were Mrs. C. Helgeson and the Misses Valerie Ellwood, Norah Helgeson, Kathie Milne and Noni Bolton. Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. Witty were in charge of the home-cooking stall, and Mrs. Fergus Reid looked after the ice cream. The Messrs. Mathews Bros. very kindly did all the transferring of chairs, crockery, etc.

It has now been definitely decided that the W.A. will hold a beach tea at Weirs Beach, on August 12, through the kindness of Mrs. Weir and Mr. Ronald Weir, in aid of the church fund.

Sooke

Mrs. M. Thomas, of Palo Alta, California, is spending a vacation with her mother, Mrs. MacLachlan. In making the trip overland by motor she was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. H. Anderson, who has returned to her home in Shirley.

* * *

Miss M. Williams, of the Y.W.C.A., is a guest at Sooke Harbor House, and had as visitors last week Miss McLeod and Miss Williams, of Victoria.

Vimy

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark, of Winnipeg, are visiting Mr. Clark's mother, Mrs. T. Clark, Gibbins Road.

* * *

Mrs. G. Bergman has returned home from King's Daughters' Hospital, where she was a patient for two weeks.

* * *

Mrs. W. D. Wilkin has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hicks, Cloverdale.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

The Closed Doors

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

I close my doors. You have no right
To open them by day or night.
—Midget the Mouse.

Midget is a true Mouse. Yes, sir, you would know that just to get a glimpse of him. What you wouldn't discover at a glance, however, is the fact that he is a member of a particular branch of that family. Unless you had him in your hands to examine, or happened to be watching him gather in seeds and so saw his cheeks gradually swell without apparent cause, you wouldn't suspect the pockets in his cheeks. All the members of his branch of the Mouse family have these pockets and so are called Pocket Mice. Midget is the smallest, so small that he will weigh less than an ounce. He is a pretty little fellow with a yellow silky coat. Because of the latter he is called the Silky Pocket Mouse. Some of his cousins and neighbors have such coarse hairs in their coats that they are called Spiny Pocket Mice.

Farmer Brown's Boy had seen Midget in the moonlight and had quite fallen in love with him. Now, moonlight is all very nice for certain things, but not so satisfactory as sunlight for seeing clearly. So it came about that the next morning right after breakfast Farmer Brown's Boy was back at that place where the night before he had watched Longfoot the Kangaroo Rat and Midget. Not a single kernal of the grain he had left there remained. He got not so much as a glimpse of either of his acquaintances of the night before. Only fairy-like footprints in the sand remained to prove that these pretty, lively little folk in fur had been there.

Of course, he knew that the smallest, daintiest prints had been made by Midget, and so he began to trace these in the hope that they would lead him to Midget's home. After a while he came to the end of one of these little trails and he guessed right away that Midget's home was close by. He looked for a hole in the sand, but no hole could he find. Under a small bush was what appeared like a very low mound and on the edge of this Farmer Brown's Boy noticed a tiny heap of sand as if it had been thrown out by someone digging a hole. He looked more closely and saw what looked as if it might be a doorway filled with sand. With a small stick he pushed away the sand and found that he was right. It was the opening to a small tunnel. Even while he was looking at it some grains of sand came out almost into his face, for he had his face very close to the hole trying to look in.

Then Farmer Brown's Boy began to chuckle. "I do believe," said he, "that the door is actually being closed in my face."

It was Midget, for this was Midget's home; he was closing that doorway with sand just as fast as he could. He was making his little feet fly as he kicked sand into place. Farmer Brown's Boy waited until the doorway was quite filled with sand. Then he removed it as before, and as before Midget immediately began to kick sand to close the door. Presently Farmer Brown's Boy found another closed dood and opened this with precisely the same result. It was perfectly clear that Midget wanted no visitors and didn't mean to have any if he could help himself.

"Well," said Farmer Brown's Boy, "for a little fellow you are smart!"

"Well," said Farmer Brown's Boy, "for a little fellow you are smart. I imagine that an open doorway wouldn't be the safest thing around here. I don't know who your enemies are, but an open doorway would be in invitation to walk in or dig in. A closed door isn't likely to be noticed. And you are right on the job to close it as fast as it is opened. You and I must become acquainted. Yet, sir, we must so. I guess I'll have to come around here after jolly round hot Mr. Sun goes to bed. It is evident that you are far too sensible to come out in the heat of the day."

So Farmer Brown's Boy didn't bother Midget any more then, but started back for the ranch.

The next story: "A Dainty Stranger."

DOLP DEFEATS BRYNJOLFSON IN P.N.W. GOLF

Rival Captains Select Teams for Ryder Cup Golf Matches Today

Strong Squads Will Hook Up in Opening Two-Ball Foursomes

British Skipper Leaves Himself Off Team for First Day's Play—Hagen Surprises by Picking Burke and Cox—Cotton Not Asked

COLUMBUS, O., June 25 (AP).—Moved up to the front lines with masterly strokes of strategy, the golfing forces of Great Britain and America are ready for the call that sends them into battle once more tomorrow for the prized Ryder Cup Trophy.

The two rival captains, Charles Whitcombe, of the British, and Walter Hagen, of the Americans, aligned their fighting forces today for the twoball foursome matches, the feature of the struggle tomorrow.

Both studied the fighting qualities of their men after a test in the broiling sun over the Scioto battlefield and announced these line-ups, in order of firing and starting at 10 a.m. tomorrow:

Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, United States, vs. Archie Compston and W. H. Davis, England.

Walter Hagen and Densmore Shute, United States, vs. George Duncan and Arthur Havers, England.

Leo Diegel and Al Espinosa, United States, vs. Abe Mitchell and Fred Robson, England.

Billy Burke and Wiffy Cox, United States, vs. Syd Easterbrook and Ernest Whitcombe, England.

BRITISH CAPTAIN OUT

While Hagen created a mild surprise by trusting one of the twoball foursomes fights to Burke and Cox, two players who were forced to qualify for the four nonpicked places on his team instead of mixing up some of his big shot fighters with him, Captain Whitcombe countered by leaving himself completely out of the opening day's matches.

He was expected to lead off in regulation captain style tomorrow, but decided that because of the intense heat and showing of some of his mates that he would stay on the side lines with the youthful Bert Hodson and shoot his game in the singles, Saturday, a struggle involving eight matches and as many points. Tomorrow's twoball foursomes are an English specialty, but Captain Whitcombe loves his singles match play and has a reason for his liking. He ranks as the champion singles match player of all England.

The two Americans left out of the opening day battle were Horton Smith and Craig Wood.

COTTON ON SIDELINES

Rumors that Henry Cotton, British star, would join the team after all for the international matches were dispelled by Fred Pignon, British team manager. He said that there was not the remotest possibility of Cotton joining up.

All matches, the twoball foursomes and the singles, will be over the thirty-six-hole route with eighteen in the morning and eighteen in the afternoon.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

"Old Abe"—The Eagle That Went to War—"Old Abe," a living specimen of the United States emblematical bird, was captured by the Indians of the Chippewa River and purchased from them by an Eau Claire, Wisconsin, regiment in 1861. The company, known as the "Badgers" of the 8th Wisconsin Regiment which was then forming, promptly adopted "Old Abe" as its pet. The eagle was "sworn" into the United States service by a symbolical decoration and started on its military career. Borne aloft with the regimental colors, it participated in fifty battles and skirmishes. After the Civil War it returned to Wisconsin and became an honorary charge of the State. It died in 1881 and its stuffed body was one of the war relics of the State of Wisconsin.

Bernie Neis—The first home run in the first game of the 1931 season in the American Association was made by Bernie Neis, first batter, Minneapolis Club, on the first ball pitched by Johnnie Marcum, who was pitching his first game of any season with the Louisville Club.

Motorcycle Rodeo Is Outstanding Success

Riders Give Large Crowd Many Thrills With Fine Display of Stunts and Novelties—Show to Continue Tonight and Tomorrow

With thrill following thrill throughout the lengthy programme, Victoria's first indoor motorcycle rodeo, staged under the auspices of the Victoria Motorcycle Club and Kinsmen Club, and under the distinguished patronage of Premier S. F. Tolmie, Mayor Herbert Anscomb and Kinsman R. F. Butchart, got under way last night at the new Horse Show Building at the Willows before a good crowd, despite the inclement weather conditions.

Before the curtain went up for the first attraction, the Victoria Girls' Band rendered several popular selections to enliven the proceedings. A short play, "John Law Does His Stuff," opened the programme. With the lights turned off, George Reece and T. Britton, as bandits, drove into the centre of the arena, followed by Reg Williams, who carried out the role of a motorcycle police officer. The bandits jumped from the car and scaled the rail as Williams chased them. Returning to the car, Williams pulled Bob Shanks, master of ceremonies, from the back seat and untied him, while Bill Lemm, owner of the car, rushed into the building, explaining how his car was stolen.

MEMBERS INTRODUCED

Bob Shanks then lined the members of the motorcycle club up in front of the audience and introduced them. Cleverly guiding their machines around the building, Reg Shanks, Bill Dillabough and Steve Dunnell delighted the crowd with some fine sidecar riding. With Dillabough and Dunnell bended over on the ground, Reg Shanks thrilled the spectators by speeding down the short course to lift his sidecar over both members with only inches to spare.

Abie West and Bob Shanks added more excitement with some fine solo displays, while Reg. Shanks and Bill Dillabough raced around a short course, displaying great skill during the race. Scoring two goals, Skipper Jimmy Norrington brought his polo squad through to a 2-1 victory over Reg. Williams' aggregation, after a great fight. Norrington was the outstanding player on the field.

NOVELTIES

Such novelties as slow racing, good pick-up, reverse riding, barrel relay race, surf riding, balancing and a special performance by "Sandy," the club's pet dog, were greatly enjoyed by the spectators. Gaining surprising speed for the short distance allowed, Abie West and Bob Shanks gave a fine exhibition of broad jumping, while the members went through three other acts, such as tilt the bucket, spotlight review and cave man soccer brought the programme to a conclusion.

The rodeo will continue this evening and wind up tomorrow night. Both evenings the shows will start at 8:30 o'clock

CRACK PORTLANDER ELIMINATES LOCAL YOUTH BY 7 AND 6

Brynjolfson Slips in Last Round of Quarter-Final Match After Being 2 Down at End of First Eighteen—Dr. Willing, Freddie Wood and Duncan Reach Semi-Final Brackets

Dolp Will Meet Wood Today as Willing Tackles Alec Duncan

By FRANK G. GORRIE
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

TACOMA, June 25.—Two former champions, Dr. O. F. Willing and Frank Dolp, both of Portland, and two youngsters of golf, Freddie Wood, of Vancouver, B.C., and Alec Duncan, of Seattle, today advanced to the semi-finals of the Pacific Northwest amateur golf tournament here in a steady downpour of rain that started last night and was still going strong when the last match was in.

FRANK DOLP

Tomorrow Willing meets Duncan, and Dolp plays Wood, with the past titleholders heavy favorites to battle for the 1931 championship Saturday. In a seesaw contest over the water-soaked fairways and greens of the Fircrest golf course, Dr. Willing finally nosed out Johnny Shields, Seattle, in their thirty-six-hole match, 3 and 2.

The other three-quarter final matches were more or less of a walkaway for the winners, with Duncan eliminating Bill Yost, Tacoma, 6 and 5; Wood conquering Jimmie Bushong, Portland, 3 and 2, and Dolp ousting Harold Brynjolfson, Victoria, 7 and 6.

MRS. HUTCHINGS WINS

The women contestants also advanced to the semi-finals today with Mrs. B. E. Eva, Portland; Mrs. Brent Potter, San Francisco; Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Vancouver, B.C., defending champion, and Miss Hilda McAuslin, Seattle, turning in victories.

Mrs. Eva defeated Mrs. P. C. Shaneman, Tacoma, 7 and 6; Mrs. Potter beat out Mrs. Guy Riegel, Spokane, 1 up; Mrs. Hutchings downed Mrs. Everett Griggs, Tacoma, 3 and 1, and Miss McAuslin eliminated Mrs. J. D. Gilmore, Seattle, 7 and 5, in eighteen-hole matches.

Tomorrow Mrs. Eva will tangle with Mrs. Potter, and Mrs. Hutchings will match clubs with Miss McAuslin.

Several hundred fans splashed their way around the watery course to witness the Willing-Shields fracas, and the two golfing stars put on a great show.

The Seattle boy started out this morning by piling up a three-hole lead at the fifteenth, only to drop the last three holes to two pars and a birdie to stop for lunch all square.

WILLING TAKES LEAD

On the first nine of the afternoon round it was just the reverse, with Willing gaining two holes and then flitting them away to turn the twenty-seventh on even terms.

Shields started the afternoon flight by winning the nineteenth hole with a birdie three, sinking a ten-foot putt. Willing quickly got the hole back at the twenty-first with a par three when Shields found the rough with his tee shot.

The Portland veteran, and twice champion in the past, forged ahead at the next hole when the Seattle boy caught a trap with his second shot, and Willing then made it two up with a par four at the twenty-third when Shields missed a three-foot putt.

Willing took two strokes to get out of a trap at the twenty-fourth, and Shields closed the gap by one hole. The twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth were halved in pars, and the Seattle youngster evened the count at the twenty-seventh with a six-foot putt for a birdie three.

The following hole was the turning point of the match with Shields missing a three-foot putt for a birdie three to halve the hole, and he threw his putter in the woods in disgust. The same club, however, thrilled the gallery on the twenty-ninth, when Shields dropped a fifty-foot putt for a half. The thirtieth and thirty-first went to Willing on pars, and they halved the next three to give Willing victory.

DUNCAN EASY WINNER

Duncan breesed through his match with Yost, winning three holes on the morning eighteen and adding as many more in the afternoon to quit at the thirty-first, victorious.

Wood was given a scare in the afternoon round with Bushong, but stopped the Portlander's rally about the time it got serious. The Vancouver lad, former British Columbia champion, led four up after the first eighteen, and then proceeded to go to pieces in the afternoon and throw all the holes away to permit Bushong to even the match at the twenty-sixth. Wood captured a birdie at the twenty-seventh to quickly take the lead again and breezed on to victory, 3 and 2.

BRYNJOLFSON "BURNED OUT"

Harold Brynjolfson, of Victoria, present British Columbia titlist, was a serious opponent for Dolp this morning, but the Portland linksman, former Western Amateur, Pacific Northwest and Oregon state champion, got down to business in the afternoon and ran away with the match. Brynjolfson attributed the landslide this afternoon to a weakened condition, claiming that he had "burned myself out" in the seventy-two-hole Pacific Northwest open meet last Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Hutchings had an uphill battle again today after her putter had failed her on the outward nine this morning. She went three down to Mrs. Griggs when she three-putted the first seven holes and then came back to capture the eighth, ninth, tenth, fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth, to win 3 and 1.

Yesterday the defending champion was carried to the twentieth by Mrs. Willie Hunter, of Los Angeles.

Results of various flight matches in which Canadian golfers figured, were as follows:

Men, first flight—Ken Black, Vancouver, defeated Dr. M. R. Rosenblatt, Portland, 1 up.

Women, first flight—Mrs. J. P. Thompkins, Seattle, defeated Miss Marjorie Todd, Victoria, 1 up; Mrs. S. P. Neilsen, Seattle, defeated Mrs. E. R. Golding, Vancouver, 2 and 1.

TORONTO GIRL DISPLAYS FORM

Olive Wade Figures in Three Victories in Quebec Tennis—Rainville in Final

MONTREAL, June 25 (CP).—Three times today Olive Wade, of Toronto, probably Canada's finest woman tennis player, was on the winning end of matches in the Province of Quebec tennis championships. Miss Wade won her semi-final match in the women's singles; paired with Mrs. A. H. Porter, Montreal, to reach the final in the women's doubles, and paired with C. W. Leslie, Montreal, to win a quarter-final match in the mixed doubles.

The remaining semi-finals in all events will be settled tomorrow with the finals scheduled for Saturday.

In the men's singles, Marcel Rainville reached the final today by eliminating Bernard Faubert, young Montrealer, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3. Rainville will meet either Dr. Jack Wright or Willard F. Crocker, who battle tomorrow.

BASEBALL fans are in for a real treat on Dominion Day, July 1, as arrangements were completed yesterday by the Sons of Canada ball club for the Asahi Club, of Vancouver, to play a double-header here at the Royal Athletic Park. The Sons will provide the opposition for the visiting Japanese in both fixtures, the first of which will take place in the morning at 10:30 o'clock and the second at 6:15 in the evening. SUAREZ LOSES BY KNOCKOUT

Petrolle Stops Argentine Pride in the Ninth Round

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, June 25 (AP).—Billy Petrolle, the Fargo Express, knocked out Justo Suarez, pride of the Argentine, in the ninth round of a ten-round bout here tonight, practically assuring himself a chance to meet Tony Canzoneri for the lightweight championship.

The end came after one minute and fifty-one seconds' fighting in the ninth. Suarez, weakened from terrific body punishment, went down from a series of rights and lefts after a right to the jaw had sent him spinning into the ropes. The Argentine was counted out on one knee, apparently unable to rise.

Suarez weighed 138; Petrolle 139 1-2.

It was Petrolle's fight all the way. The Express from the Northwest sent Suarez down twice in the opening round with left hooks, once for a count of one and again for a two count, and with the exception of the second round, when Suarez connected with a series of stiff blows to the head, had the better of things in every round. Centring his attack on the game Argentine's body, Petrolle began to slow his man in the fourth, forcing him to cover and the end was only a question of time.

CRUSHING BLOW

The defeat was Suarez's first in the United States and dealt a crushing blow to his hopes of a lightweight crown. In the early rounds he displayed flashes of the punch that enabled him to knock out opponents just before returning to this country, but he could not dent Petrolle's sturdy jaw.

The main bout, climaxing a series of uninteresting preliminaries, kept an estimated crowd of 9,000 in a constant uproar from the first knockdown to the final count of ten on Suarez. Several of the blows that prepared the Argentine for the finishing punches apparently landed low, but because of the no-foul rule of the New York State Athletic Commission, reacted only to Suarez's disadvantage.

Jokers Will Journey To Nanaimo Tomorrow For Important Match

Local Soccer Eleven to Take Strong Squad to Meet Up-Islanders in Provincial Semi-Final Round of Connaught Cup Series

Strengthened by the addition of the towering Joe Crowe and Bob Preston from the Saanich Thistles and Duncan football camps, respectively, Manager Malcolm McCaig and his Jokers soccer squad will head for Nanaimo Saturday afternoon to clash with the strong Up-Island aggregation in the provincial semi-final round of the Connaught Cup series, confident of returning home with a victory. The match will start at 6 o'clock, and fans wishing to make the trip may do so by phoning Empire 9605, as an extra bus will leave with the players from the City Hall at 1 p.m. sharp.

Jubilant over their first and second round victories, Jokers have every hope of reaching the British Columbia finals and the right to meet New Westminster Royals, present holders of the Dominion championship. Without a doubt the locals are one of the strongest teams to fly the colors of the Capital City in the titular series, and the Coal City aggregation will have to be at its best to score a victory.

Only twelve months ago, with a much weaker team than they have today, Jokers journeyed to Vancouver and had the Royals beaten off their feet with only five minutes remaining to be played, but like the proverbial worm, the tide turned and New Westminster rammed home two goals in the dying moments to win. The Jokers were leading 2-1, with time flying fast, but instead of playing their usual game, they slipped back on the defence, and as a result went down to defeat.

FORWARD LINE GOOD

Nanaimo have also added strength for the series by acquiring some Mainland players to fill in. In their first match, Nanaimo defeated Ladysmith, 3-2, after a great match. The best part of the Coal City team is their forward line, which will have a slight edge over the locals. Defensively, the Jokers are stronger, with a fine intermediate rank, a great set of backs and a first class goalie.

LOCALS FORMIDABLE

Guarding the hemp for the Jokers will be Gordie Chalmers, the youngster who has been instrumental in the team's great success all season. Several times during important matches the team's defence weakened at critical moments, but Chalmers stood up like a stone wall, executing some phenomenal stops, while his teammates clung onto a slight lead until the final whistle. In front of Chalmers will be Joe Crowe and George Leggett, the same two backs chosen to play against the touring Englishmen.

The half-line will be selected from Nurse, Campbell, Heal, Stofer and Gibbons, while the front rank of attack will be formidable, with the following to pick from: McBay, Cosier, Watson, Preston, Bunyan, Glancy and Rogers. With several workouts under their belts, Jokers will march on the field in the pink of condition and will be in there fighting from whistle to whistle for victory.

Injury to Keep Sutcliffe Out Of First Test

LONDON, June 25 (CP).—Though he scored 107 runs against Hampshire at Portsmouth today, it was announced that Herbert Sutcliffe, of Yorkshire, would not play for England in the test match against New Zealand at Lords, beginning on Saturday. His place will be taken by Frank Woolley, of Kent, as it was stated that Sutcliffe had not fully recovered from an injury.

B.C. Clay Court Net Tournament To Start Monday

VANCOUVER, June 25. — The British Columbia clay court tennis championship next week at the Jericho Tennis Club will bring to Vancouver several outstanding players from Washington and Oregon. Leading a Seattle contingent will be Henry Prusoff, hard-hitting six-footer, and "Windy" Langile, 1929 Bowen Island champion.

Portland is sending its two youthful experts, Don Lewis and Bob Johnson, a couple of young stylists who are getting harder to beat every year. Harry Rosenberg, of Tacoma, and one or two others from Seattle and way points also are expected to take part, along with leading Vancouver court stars. Entries for the tournament close on Saturday.

Hillhurst Advances In Connaught Soccer

CALGARY, June 25.—Hillhurst entered the final of the elimination series for the Dominion soccer championship, by virtue of a 2-1 win over Callies at Hillhurst Park on Wednesday evening.

It was a typical Callies-Hillhurst game—thrills in plenty, but not a great amount of the scientific stuff. Free kicks proved expensive to Callies, both goals coming direct for breaches of law nine.

Hillhurst showed more method, especially against the wind, and that alone would justify the narrow victory.

Yoxall and D. Tucker scored for Hillhurst, while Borland netted the low tally for the losers.

English Star Overcomes German Girl After Dropping First Set—Austin and Kingsley Capture Doubles Match With Ease

LONDON, June 25 (AP).—There was no play in men's singles in the Wimbledon tennis championships today, but the firing continued on two other fronts—women's singles and men's doubles.

Miss Betty Nuthall, British star, advanced along with three strong contenders from the United States.

H. W. (Bunny) Austin and C. H. Kingsley, one of the outstanding favorite combinations for the men's doubles title, scored an easy victory today, eliminating their fellow-countrymen, Ploughman and Parker, by scores of 6-4, 6-0, 6-2.

The United States doubles team of Frank X. Shields and Sidney B. Wood, Jr., defeated the Fletcher brothers combination, C. G. and J. H. L., of Great Britain, 6-3, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Other doubles teams to advance today were Henri Chochet and Jacques Brugnon, of France; John Van Ryn and George Lott, Jr., of the United States; Fred Perry and G. P. Hughes, of Great Britain; and the Raymond-Spence and Kirby-Farquharson, South African combination.

Miss Nuthall, after a setback in the first set, 4-6, had little difficulty in overcoming Fraulein Anna Petiz, of Germany, taking the next two sets with the loss of only one game, and that in the third set.

MRS. VAN RYN IMPRESSES

Mrs. L. A. Harper, playing in her second round match, defeated Mrs. Marshall, young unranked British player, 6-3, 6-3. Mrs. Van Ryn played impressively against her British opponent, Miss Trenham, winning 7-5, 6-2. Miss Jacobs, who is predicted by many to advance to a match with Miss Nuthall, put up a strong game today to defeat Mrs. J. B. Pittman, Great Britain, 6-3, 6-4. Mrs. Van Ryn and Miss Jacobs moved to the quarter-finals with a victory over Mlle. Neufeld, of France, 6-0, 6-2.

The Van Ryn-Lott victory today in the men's doubles came at the expense of Betty Nuthall's brother, J. W. Nuthall, and C. R. Tucker, by scores of 6-4, 6-4, 10-8. The United States pair drew a bye in the first round.

The Kirby-Farquharson South African team eliminated Watson Washburn, United States veteran, and his Polish partner, Ticozinski, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Herin Cochet, paired with his old French Davis Cup doubles partner, Jacques Brugnon, won a first round match in the doubles from I. Aoki and R. Miki, Japan, 6-4, 10-8, 6-3.

Fred Perry and G. P. Hughes, Great Britain, defeated Helmore and Hodges, Great Britain, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

In a women's singles match, fourth round, Gilli Aussem, Germany, defeated Mlle. Neufeld, France, 6-0, 6-2.

Singles play in the men's division will be resumed tomorrow.

BOB KRUSE TO GRAPPLE ABE KAPLAN

Rugged Portlander to Face New York Heavy in Bout Tomorrow

"ROCKY" BROOKS TO MEET DAWSON

ROCKY BROOKS

well-known local grappler, who will appear in the semi-wind-up event tomorrow evening at the Tillicum Gymnasium on the local wrestling card, with Al Dawson as his opponent. Brooks is making great headway in the grappling game and expects to pin Dawson to the mat.

Another heavyweight grappler will make his debut before local fans tomorrow evening at the Tillicum gymnasium, when Abe Kaplan, Jewish matman from New York, steps through the ropes to take on the rough-and-ready Bob Kruse, popular Portlander, in the main event on Promoter Fred Richardson's wrestling card. The first bout will get under way at 8:45 o'clock.

"Rocky" Brooks, Victoria's strong man grappler, will appear in the semi-wind-up tussle with another newcomer to Northwest circles in Al Dawson. Dawson will also be making his appearance before Victorians and is coming here with a first-class record, which means that Brooks will have his hands full from the first clang of the gong. Brooks has not appeared in the local ring for several weeks, but has had many successes over opponents in other Northwest cities.

The main event, which is billed to go eight ten-minute rounds, is expected to be full of action, as both lads are rugged and hounds for punishment. Kaplan has met some of the best boys in the game and hopes to add Kruse's scalp to his long string of victories.

Jack Johnson Shows Form in Exhibition Go

OAKLAND, June 25 (AP). — Roberto Roberti, 223-pound Italian, made short work of Eddie Jorge last night when he knocked out the Oakland negro in the first round of a scheduled ten-round bout. Jorge weighed 213 pounds.

Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, boxed a three-round exhibition with Chief White Horse, and brought an ovation from the crowd by his boxing ability. The fifty-three-year-old former titleholder weighed 223 pounds, but stepped around in a speedy manner to make his 190-pound opponent look ridiculous.

At the Playhouses

CAPITOL THEATRE The stern code of the hills, that inexorable, unwritten law which holds young womanhood inviolate, is the basic theme of "Eyes of the World," the Inspiration-United Artists dramatisation of the Harold Bell Wright novel now playing at the Capitol Theatre. Henry King, the director, uses this stern, ethical law as the foundation for a beautiful romance and a dramatic story of the conflict between two diverse strata in the social scale—the simple, kindly-natured dwellers of the hills and the sophisticated urbanites. John Holland is seen as "Aaron King," the artist. Nance O'Neil, who is one of America's greatest emotional actresses, portrays the grim role of "Myra," who haunts the memories of her past, seeking revenge.

DOMINION THEATRE Recently Charles Farrell, who is featured in "Body and Soul," which is now showing at the Dominion Theatre, was asked, "What, if you were not connected with motion pictures, would you prefer to be?" Without hesitation, he replied, "Connected with motion pictures." Humphrey Bogart and Myrna Loy are also featured in this production which Alfred Santell directed.

COLISEUM THEATRE The final showing of "Suspense," the magnificently-acted and produced war drama now at the Coliseum Theatre, will be given this afternoon at 2 p.m., the evening being taken up by the dancing revue by the Clough Dancing Studio. "Suspense" has proved to be perhaps the best of the war pictures to be shown here to date. Its magnificent acting and grim realism has held large audiences spellbound, and the humor has convulsed them at the same time.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Nothing just like "Viennese Nights," the feature at the Columbia Theatre, has ever before been attempted on the screen. It contains an original symphony played by the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra of 100 pieces, and the story is one of the most hauntingly beautiful ever transferred to the talking screen. Walter Pidgeon, Jean Hersholt, Vivienne Segal, Alexander Gray, Alice Day, Louise Fazenda, Bert Roach and June Pursell head the cast of gifted players.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE There is no doubt about the success of the Playhouse Walkathon. The theatre was packed last night, and well patronized all day. The audience thoroughly enjoyed the excellent vaudeville show, to which some of the contestants contributed. Frank Clark, of couple No. 7 had to retire owing to sore feet, and his partner Lydia Lanchick was disqualified when she failed to be on the stage on time. You never can tell what is going to happen next at the Walkathon, and tonight, don't forget the midnight frolic.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

Saturday is Alexandra Rose Day! Rover and I want to see this coming Rose Day beat all former records. We hope that everyone in the city will buy a wee rose, to wear in the lapel of male coats, or to be more picturesquely and artistically arranged on the gayer garments of all dear ladies, in loving memory of Queen Alexandra, who loved roses, and to help the good work of our local I.O.D.E., who are so kindly interested in all branches of worthy social activities and charities.

Alexandra Rose Day was inaugurated twenty years ago and it has a world-wide field of operations; its two main objects are to keep green the memory of our late Queen Alexandra, and to provide funds for hospitals for children, especially the children of the poor and the unfortunate, and to give aid to special cases of distress and unhappiness.

The rose is the emblem of Old England, and it is the most loved flower in all the world. So, please wear a rose on Alexandra Day!

These little flowers will be on sale at every street corner on Saturday morning next, and we are sure that you will not only get a rose for your kind contribution to the Alexandra Rose Day fund, but the sellers and taggers will give you a smile free gratis, and you will feel that much better and more cheerful when you have done your bit to swell the fund that helps little children and makes many small people in this rather worried old world all the brighter and happier as they, too, advance along the path we are all treading.

So, please wear a rose on Alexandra Rose Day!

"Am I to wear a rose, too?" said Rover, when I had typed that last sentence.

"Of course!" said I, "if you want to roam around with me on Saturday, you must do as I do, and as everyone else will do, and wear a rose! There's your collar to tuck it into, old chap. And if a thorn should scratch your wooley old neck, it won't be the first time it's been scratched."

"Will there be rosy-cheeked girls to sell the roses on the streets, master?"

"Rows and rows of them," said I. "And besides, Rover, a rose suits every style of beauty, so you need not dodge the issue by thinking you can avoid wearing a rose because you have a darkish complexion."

All garlanded with roses, red,
The pathway to the sun is spread
For those, who think of others' need;
For feet, that go to help—with speed;
For lips that smile, when hope hath sped,
And for kind hearts, with love inbred;
And for the hands, that kindness shed
And happiness—their paths proceed,
All garlanded with roses, red!

In loving memory of the dead;
In true remembrance, be it said;
"We wear a rose, today; indeed,
Our hearts, in loving, now exceed;
We find life's pathways, overhead,
All garlanded with roses, red!"

Be sure to buy and wear a bright, red rose on Alexandra Rose Day!

MANY RESOLUTIONS WILL BE PUT BEFORE REGINA CONVENTION

Resolutions which include superannuation, eight-hour day, overtime pay, lightkeepers' working conditions and pay and permanency of temporary employees will be considered at the national convention of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, to be held in Regina in September. Copies of the resolutions have been received by A. H. C. Jones, secretary of the Victoria Council.

Matters which interest Dominion Government employees on the Pacific Coast include a protest against an order of the Department of Marine discontinuing the issue of uniforms to men employed on the Canadian Government steamer Estevan.

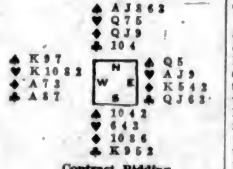

The Victoria Council also has a number of resolutions for the convention regarding the working conditions of lighthouse keepers, which it has been seeking to improve. Resolutions regarding the permanency of men employed in the Public Works Department point out that some of them have been classed as temporary employees for as long as twenty years, and through the classification have no assurance of an annual increase in pay or promotion, and are not entitled to superannuation.

Will Give Recital At Quadra School

A recital will be given by Mrs. MacGovern's pupils this evening at 7:45 o'clock in the Quadra School auditorium. A very interesting programme has been prepared, and a cordial welcome is extended to all parents and friends interested. This being the last recital of the year, the student that has won the highest marks for recital playing will be awarded the prize. The collection will be in aid of the piano fund for the school.

Dummy's Play to the First Lead at No Trump

Contract Bidding

	1st Rd	2nd Rd
South	Pass	Pass
West	1 N T	3 N T
North	Pass	Pass
East	2 N T	Pass

Auction Bidding

	1st Rd
South	Pass
West	1 N T
North	Pass
East	3m

There is an old whist adage, "King ever—Queen never." This refers to the second hand play when holding a high honor and but one other of the suit initially opened. It is still, as a rule, good advice when playing with a suit as trump, which was necessarily always the case at whist, but with the introduction of bridge the No Trump declaration was introduced and in many cases the old adage must be ignored.

In the above deal played by West at No Trump where North opens the six of Spades, declarer can, by the application of the rule of eleven, place South with but one card higher than the six. This card is not the eight, for had North held the A-J-10 he would have opened the Jack. There is a possibility, of course, of its being the Ace, but the chances are that it is more likely to be either the Jack or ten. In other words, it is more likely to be one of two cards than one of one.

If a small Spade is played from dummy, then West's King will be driven out to the first trick and East's Queen will fall to the Ace on the second round. If, however, the Queen in dummy should hold the first trick, West can keep his King guarded by taking the finesses into North's hand, for he can prevent South getting in the lead until such time as he will have nine tricks, or game.

This brings us to the proposition of taking the finesse into North's hand in spite of the fact that it may be a losing play. It has been said as to such play that even if you looked in an opponent's hand and saw a card there, you still should not believe it if game is involved.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Contract—South passes and West opens the bidding with one no Trump. North passes. East bids two No Trumps. South passes and West bids three No Trumps, concluding the bidding.

Auction—West obtains the declaration for his second hand opening bid of one No Trump.

THE PLAY

The principle of play has been given in the preamble. North opens the six of Spades and the trick is taken with the Queen in dummy. The Jack of Hearts is led and allowed to run around to North's Queen in an effort to get partner in the lead. North shifts to the Queen of Diamonds and declarer allows him to hold the trick. It makes no difference now what North's continuation may be, for since the Diamonds are evenly divided and the Club finesse is successful, declarer must make one Spade, three Hearts, three Diamonds and two Clubs.

OAK BAY WILL DEFEND BY-LAW

Threat to Build Apartment House May Lead to Court Action

The municipality of Oak Bay is threatened with having to defend the validity of its zoning by-law.

Metcalfe & Lee, who seek a permit for the construction of an apartment house on Somass Drive, threaten that they will proceed without the necessary permit. The council last evening decided to notify Metcalfe & Lee that the solicitor's opinion was that the by-law was "valid and enforceable," and that any attempt to act in the face of it would be followed by an appeal to the courts.

The section of the municipality on Somass Drive is designated in the zoning by-law as purely residential in its character. An application for leave to construct an apartment house there was met by a refusal, on the ground that it would be contrary to the zoning by-law.

The new move by Metcalfe & Lee to proceed in spite of the by-law was met by appeal to Lawson & Davis, the solicitors for the municipality, whose opinion, announced at the council meeting last evening, was to the effect that the by-law was valid and enforceable. The solicitors advised that any defiance of its provisions should be met by the commencing of an action applying to the courts for an injunction to restrain such attempted violation of the by-law.

Metcalfe & Lee will be advised by the municipality to this effect.

That Body of Yours
By James W. Barton, M.D.
WHY EXHAUST GAS IS DANGEROUS

A couple of years ago you may have read about the Philadelphia traffic policemen stationed in the centre of the traffic in the heart of the city. They began to feel weak and listless, were removed to the outskirts of the city for duty, where they again became their old healthy selves.

It was found that the exhaust gas from the great number of motor cars in the heart of the city was actually replacing, to some extent, the oxygen in their blood, and this was what was causing the trouble.

Now we need oxygen to keep the body processes going properly. When you do any physical work, you use up some of the oxygen in the muscle and give out carbon dioxide. This means, of course, that if you do hard physical work that you will need more oxygen; in fact, you may get to the point where you are actually using up more oxygen than you are taking in, which means that you are robbing other tissues of the body of their oxygen for the time being. This is called getting into debt in your oxygen account, and Yale research men, investigating this matter, found that oarsmen, during a hard race, used up so much oxygen that it took a long time for them to get enough back into the system by breathing, to repay all the tissues that had given up some of their oxygen during the hard race.

And now research men are finding that a nerve that is deprived of, or is not getting enough oxygen, rapidly loses its power to conduct or carry the nervous impulse. It has been proved, also, that a nerve uses oxygen and gives off carbon dioxide during the passage of a nervous impulse and that this causes heat just as when a muscle works.

Dr. Otto Warburg has been able to show that the tissues have iron-containing respiratory ferments that can take in oxygen of the air, and convert it into oxygen that can be used by the tissues. However, carbon monoxide, the exhaust from automobiles, can also combine with these ferments in the tissues, and actually prevent or interfere with them making the oxygen.

Therefore, if there is too much carbon dioxide in the air, then just to the extent that there is too much, will there be that much less oxygen for the needs of the tissues.

I am hoping for the day when automobile manufacturers will be able to have this exhaust gas consumed in some way. In the meantime, if the exhaust pipe ran up the side of the car, and the exhaust gas was thrown off at the top of the car, it would be well above man's level, and we'd escape the fumes.

BAPTISTS MEET IN CONVENTION

Mrs. C. W. Spofford, of Victoria, Delivers Presidential Address

VANCOUVER, June 25. — The thirty-fifth annual convention of the Baptist churches of British Columbia opened here yesterday. At the afternoon session, the president, Mrs. C. W. Spofford, of Victoria, delivered the presidential address based on "Man's Extremity and God's Opportunity." She stressed the need of a new vision on the part of the church, coupled with a greater consecration in order that the church may enter a wider door of opportunity.

Rev. M. S. Richardson, of Emanuel Church, Victoria, followed the president with an address on the "Need and Possibility of Prayer." Dr. W. H. Geistwyte, of First Baptist Church, Vancouver, spoke on the subject of "Service."

A very satisfactory budget was presented by Eric Davie.

Several new pastors were introduced during the afternoon, who have arrived to take up pastoral duties in British Columbia, including Rev. M. S. Richardson, from Saint John, New Brunswick, to Emanuel Church, Victoria; Rev. John Scott from Winnipeg, Manitoba, who will take up his charge in Summerland; Rev. H. W. Geescott, from Listowel, Ont., also going to Summerland; Rev. S. Hargreaves, who is going to Alta Vista.

This evening Rev. Hugh Dobson, of Vancouver, secretary of the social service department of British Columbia for the United churches, spoke on "The Church and Unemployment."

BISHOP SUES HEARST FOR MILLION DAMAGES

CHICAGO, June 25 (AP).—Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, yesterday named William Randolph Hearst, The Chicago Herald and Examiner and twenty-nine other Hearst newspapers as defendants in a suit for $1,000,000 damages alleging libel. The suit was filed in the United States District Court. The bill said the bishop was libelled in a newspaper account of his marriage last Summer to Mrs. Helen Hawley McCallum, and that efforts had been made to discover his influence as a leader in the prohibition cause.

Picket Is Fined For Intimidation

TORONTO, June 25.—What is regarded as a test case was decided against labor pickets in County Court here today when Judge O'Connell fined Harry Seldon, member of the local bakers' union, $30, or one month in jail, for intimidation. Accused had been one of the union pickets parading before the shop of a baker who employed non-union workmen. Crown counsel said other prosecutions may follow.

ALL OFFICIALS ARE RE-ELECTED

E. V. Finland Is Returned as President of Esquimalt Central Conservative Association

The annual meeting of the Esquimalt Central Conservative Association, held in the rooms of the association, Esquimalt, Wednesday night, elected officers for the ensuing year. The officials of last year were re-elected for the ensuing term. They are as follows: President, E. V. Finland; first vice-president, W. Mudge, Cobble Hill; second vice-president, Mrs. S. R. Bowden, Esquimalt; third vice-president, W. Gooch, Shawnigan Lake, and secretary-treasurer, D. A. Henry, Esquimalt.

Representatives from every section of the riding attended. It was the first annual meeting of the body, which has only recently been organized as a central body. The business of the gathering was disposed of with expedition to allow the delegates to hear the member for the district, Hon. R. H. Pooley, K.C., Attorney-General of the Province, and Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance.

The new constitution of the association was adopted and a number of matters affecting the organization discussed.

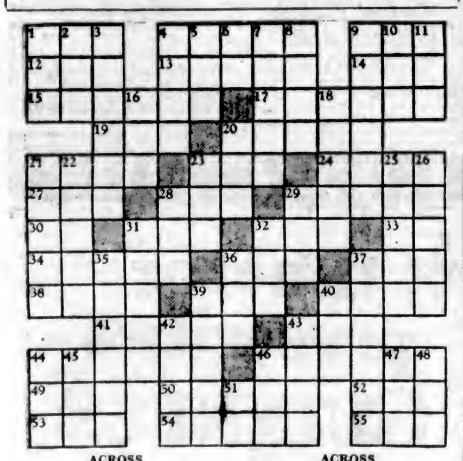

Owing to the president, E. V. Finland, being indisposed, suffering from a severe cold, the chair was occupied by the vice-president, W. Mudge, of Cobble Hill.

Mr. Pooley took early occasion to congratulate the association upon the splendid attendance of delegates at the first meeting held since the effecting of the organization.

Slight Average Decline Caused By Profit Taking

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP).—Stocks bowed to profit taking today, but not until the advance in their market, as well as in most others, had gone farther.

Although there was some irregularity in the final share quotations the average of leading share net changes were slightly lower than yesterday's. This loss was less than a point, however. It was an active market involving the transfer of 4,300,000 shares, but volume was better sustained on the rise of the earlier hours than on the decline during the afternoon.

Copper shares took the headlines, running up 1 to 3 points as domestic producers posted the third quarter-cent price increase of the week. Gains in the group were modified, but it was difficult to restrain the enthusiasm with which the issues greeted their recently improved fortunes. Anaconda declared the regular dividend.

U.S. Steel set a new high for the recovery at 102 but closed at 98 5-8, off 1 3-8. American Can, Bethlehem, Radio, American Tobacco "B," New York Central, Allied Chemical, Air Reduction and Union Pacific lost 1 to 2, while Westinghouse, American Telephone, Union Carbide, General Electric, General Motors, Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio eased fractionally. Auburn retained less than half of a 23-point hop that lifted it to 201. Case gave the shorts a squeeze and was up 2 net, although its extreme advance was nearly 7.

The bond market recorded further gains today although some late profit taking caused some recessions from the day's best.

Foreign obligations provided many of the largest gains. Australian, Argentine, Colombian and certain Brazilian and German issues were particularly strong.

PRICES EASIER IN DULL TRADE

Winnipeg Wheat Quotations Decline Fractionally—Little Local Buying

WINNIPEG, June 24 (CP).—Inactive for the most part, wheat traded at slightly lower levels here today. Prices at close of trading were 7-8 to 5-8 lower than yesterday. July closed at 61 5-8, October at 63 3-4 to 63 1-4, and October finished at 65.

Buying by commission houses and for southern and foreign account constituted the main support. Scattered purchases by locals were also in evidence. Export business overnight was estimated at 200,000 bushels.

Cash wheat and coarse grains prices showed no material change in dull trading.

Base Metal Shares Surge Upward Upon Vancouver Exchange

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—In the most enthusiastic trading seen in several months, base metals shares surged higher on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today and closed with advances ranging from 1c to 5c. Golds were inclined to ease, while the oils, in neglected trading, generally ended the day unchanged. Transfers rose to 34,055 shares as compared with 19,832 shares on Wednesday.

Outstanding in the upward movement in the late dealings were Big Missouri and Beaver Silver. In response to the spectacular advance in Consolidated Smelters on Eastern markets, Big Missouri rose sharply in the final hour to 30c, from a morning close at 27c, to end the day with a net advance of 4c. Rumors of early reopening of the Beaver Silver mine attracted buying to the stock, which advanced from 5c to 6c, a gain for the day of 1c.

The continued recovery in silver, lead and zinc prices was reflected on the lesser active mines issues. Pend Oreille again rallied and closed at 90c bid, a net increase of 5c, while Golconda at 30c and Jack Waite at 34c rose 3c and 2c respectively. Porter-Idaho closed 1c higher at 5c bid.

Trading in precious metal issues was confined to small blocks. Pioneer, on a turnover of 200 shares, sold evenly at 2.50, but sagged on the closing bid to 2.45, a net loss of 6c. Lorne, also in sluggish movement, closed off fractionally at 9c bid.

Recovery in the Flathead Valley shares and fairly heavy buying in Mercury were the features on the otherwise listless oils board. Amalgamated rallied 1c to 8c and Crow's Nest stiffened 1 1-2c to 6 1-2c. Mercury hardened slightly in the late trading to 12 1-2c, but closed unchanged at 12c bid.

TORONTO MINING MARKET ACTIVE

TORONTO, June 25 (CP).—Several market leaders, moving down under profit taking, proved exceptions to the general trend today on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, which was steady to higher. In early trading prices started to soar, but as the session proceeded there was a noticeable slump. Sales involved 363,859 shares.

Noranda and International Nickel closed lower in active trading. Noranda advanced to $22.10 then dropped to $20.25, off 75c. Nickel rose to $16.50 and closed at $15.10, down 28c. Coast Copper sold at $5.25, or $2.25 above its previous price. Hudson Bay at $4.90 was up 40c.

The precious metal group developed a mixed trend. Dome Mines recovered 55c to $12.10; Lake Shore at $26 and Hollinger at $6.70, were unchanged. McIntyre sold up to $22.75, then declined to $21.50, off $1.25. Cities Service led the upswing in the oil group to close at $13.50, up $1.25. International Petroleum was up 50c to $11.75. Imperial dropped 75c to $13. British American fell 25c.

TORONTO GENERAL STOCKS ARE FIRM

TORONTO, June 25 (CP).—The market on the Toronto Stock Exchange continued strongly today. Volume totaled 38,063 shares. This result was achieved in spite of some realization during the latter half of the session, when New York went sharply lower. Some interlisted issues sold off, while the majority of stocks traded continued near their highs of the day without price recessions. The day's most favorable factor was a sustained rise in the price of commodities.

International Nickel, at 15 1-2, showed a net loss of 3-4. Smelters sold up to 112, and closed at 105 with a net gain of 7 points. Fractional losses prevailed in the oil group. British American was off 1-8, Imperial 7-8, International Petroleum 1-4, and McColl 5-8.

In the utility section, Brazilian Traction and C.P.R. were each off, the former closing at 18 3-8 with a loss of 1 1-8, the latter losing 3-4 to 27 1-2. B.C. Power, Shawinigan and Bell made good gains. Steel issues were strong, Page-Hersey gaining 1, Dominion Bridge 3 1-8, and Hamilton Bridge 3-8.

In the foods section there were fractional gains. Canadian Canners convertible was up 3-8 to close at 10 1-4. Walker at 6 was unchanged.

French Line Ship Wisconsin Due to Arrive on Sunday

Will Be Open to Public—Tour Party Here—Weather Holding Up Motor Travel—Coast Liner Delayed

Due here on Sunday next, the Ss. Wisconsin, of the French Line, will dock at Ogden Point Piers, and will be the second ship of this fleet to call at Victoria in June. The hour of her arrival is not definitely known, but will be announced late today, it is expected. In all probability this splendid vessel will be open for public inspection on Sunday afternoon, when it is probable that many Victorians will avail themselves of the opportunity of viewing the last word in steamer travel between ports on this coast via the Panama Canal to Europe.

This vessel, like her sister ships, the Ss. Wyoming, Ms. Oregon and the Ms. Washington, is a trim-looking ship of 10,000 gross tons, is 450 feet in length, 60-foot beam and has accommodation for forty cabin class passengers. She has the handsome lines of the modern combination freight and pasenger liners with two spacious promenade decks, one of which is partly glass-enclosed. The bridge and wheelhouse and officers' quarters are separated from the passenger accommodation and forward of it.

EQUIPMENT MODERN

Constructed in 1930, the Wisconsin has the same high standard of accommodation as possessed by the Winnipeg when in Victoria during the first week of June of this year, such as large, bright cabins, all outside on the promenade deck, equipped with two beds, running hot and cold water in every room, electric fans and the very latest heating system, while some rooms are available with shower bath and toilet with the finest sanitary equipment. There is a spacious ladies' lounge, large smoking room and the dining saloon will accommodate all the officers and passengers at one sitting. The ship is equipped with all the most modern devices of safety such as the gyro pilot, water-tight compartments, Welin-Machlachlan type lifeboats, where the lifeboats are raised above the boat deck, thus creating exceptional deck space, radio compass and gyro compass.

With a heavy passenger list, including fifty students and teachers from colleges in the Eastern United States, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha motor liner, Hikawa Maru, passed out by Victoria yesterday afternoon. Yoshiyuki Kagami, of the passenger department of the line, with headquarters at Tokio, is in charge of the student party, which will spend two months in Japan on an educational tour. Visits will be paid to the Imperial University and Tokio, as well as Kyoto, the famous art centre of the Japanese Empire.

PROMOTING FRIENDSHIP

Every effort will be made to create a better feeling between the people of Japan and the North American continent, and during the voyage across the Pacific the students will hear lectures on Japan and will attend a Summer school on arrival at Tokio. Mr. Kagami arrived in San Francisco early in May, accompanying his uncle, Kenkichi Kagami, president of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, who was the chief Japanese delegate to the International Chambers of Commerce meeting at Washington. The head of the N.Y.K. is now en route home via Europe.

The first party of Elliott's Canadian Rockies' tours, made up of fifty people, arrived in Victoria yesterday evening at 5:15 o'clock, on the Canadian National ferry boat, Ss. Prince Robert. Taking a hurried sightseeing trip while here, the party proceeded to Seattle when the ship sailed again at 6:45 o'clock. The tour party was in charge of Dr. P. W. Hodges, assistant general superintendent of education for the State of Alabama. It left Chicago on June 17, and visited Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Calgary and Jasper Park Lodge, traveling by Canadian National Railways.

WEATHER ABNORMAL

The abnormal weather which the Northwest is now experiencing, is retarding the movements of motor travelers, E. A. Field, former land commissioner of the Canadian National Railways at Winnipeg and now retired, stated here yesterday. With Mrs. Field and his daughter he motored up the coast from Santa Monica, where he makes his home, meeting comparatively few motor parties on the way. The majority of motor tourists were holding back until the weather settled, Mr. Field considered. Before returning south, he intends making a trip to Alaska. He left Victoria in time to catch the Ss. Prince Henry sailing to Skagway and way ports from Vancouver last night.

With rains general throughout the Puget Sound and coastal areas adjacent to Victoria, excursionists remained at home yesterday, the initial excursion of the Ss. Princess Patricia, of the B.C. Coast Service fleet, to Seattle, drawing only a small number, while the Ss. Indianapolis, of the Black Ball Ferries' fleet, with an excursion from Seattle to Victoria, arrived shortly after 1 o'clock with only a light complement of holiday-makers aboard.

YACHTING PARTY

To join his yacht at Vancouver, where she has been awaiting his coming for several days past, General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railway system, is due to arrive at Vancouver on Tuesday next. The yacht will make a cruise along the British Columbia coast and through Alaska waters. It is quite possible that the yacht and party will be seen here before the cruise ends.

Delayed on her way up the coast, the Ss. Ruth Alexander, of the Pacific Steamship Company, did not arrive at Rithet Piers until 1 o'clock this morning from California ports. For Victoria the liner had sixty-five passengers and about ninety tons of general cargo. As the majority of the passengers were for Mainland points, the Ss. Princess Joan, of the B.C. Coast Service, on her way to Vancouver at midnight, went alongside the ocean docks and embarked the passengers from the South.

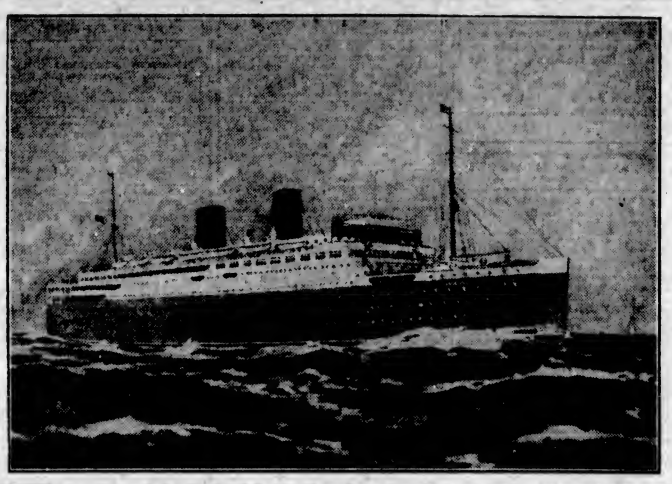

ALASKA BOUND

On her way to Alaska with a big list of excursionists aboard, the Ss. Dorothy Alexander, Pacific Steamship Company's liner, is due to arrive at Rithet Piers at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Giving her passengers three hours in which to visit points of interest in and about Victoria, the Dorothy Alexander will clear for Ketchikan at 6 o'clock.

Captain M. Uldall, one of the most widely-known mariners of the Pacific Coast, was in Victoria yesterday after a tour of the Island in a new car which he recently acquired, or which his wife bought, he said, and brought him along. Captain Uldall was formerly master of Kingsley Navigation Company ships, and is now pilot for the company with headquarters at Seattle.

Among the passengers northbound on the Ss. Princess Henry when she left Vancouver for the North last night were twenty members of the Eaton's Girls' Club, of Toronto. The party is in charge of Miss G. E. Moore. They intend to go East over the Canadian National, and will leave the boat at Prince Rupert. They came west over the Canadian Pacific.

Burned in Hamilton Harbor

ABOVE is a picture of the $7,000,000 Furness liner Bermuda, which was partly destroyed by fire and sank in Hamilton Harbor, Bermuda, shortly before it was to sail for New York with a big passenger list. The Bermuda is one of the largest motor ships in the world. She is 550 feet long, 20,000 tons, and has first class accommodation for 615 passengers.

Western Traffic Managers Gather For Conference

ARRIVING from Seattle last evening on the Canadian National ferry, members of the Western Traffic Managers' Association from Washington and Oregon will be in session at the Hotel Empress here for several days. Included in the party arriving yesterday, which was accompanied from the Sound city by J. M. Macrae, Canadian National representative, were F. N. Hicks and O. P. Kellog, of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railway; J. L. Burnham and F. A. Cleveland, of the Northern Pacific; A. S. Edmonds, of the Unicn Pacific, and T. H. Burnham, of the Great Northern Railway. A. T. McKean, representing the Canadian Pacific Railway, will arrive here this morning. Other members are also expected today.

Lindbergh Gets Permit to Use Soviet Airways

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP).—Charles A. Lindbergh today obtained the consent of the Russian Government to fly over that country on his projected aerial tour of the Far East. Permission was granted in a cablegram from the Foreign Office to the Soviet Union information bureau here and forwarded to the flyer.

ITALY ACCEPTS HOOVER'S PLAN

Reserves Privilege of Filing "Observations" Later Regarding Its Application

ROME, June 25 (AP).—Italy's ambassador at Washington has been instructed to inform Secretary of State Stimson that Premier Mussolini's Government accepts the principle of President Hoover's moratorium plan, but reserves the privilege of filing certain "observations" regarding its application.

Although the acceptance is unconditional, the Italian attitude remains opposed to any objectionable international political activity as a result of a moratorium.

"This proposal means an appreciable sacrifice for Italy," the Premier said in a telegram to his ambassador, "but I have decided to give it my cordial acceptance in principle, and later I will take the liberty of sending the American Government some of my observations intended for an application both equitable and practicable."

HAPPY INITATIVE

The Premier's telegram said he had examined Mr. Hoover's proposal in detail and he regarded it as a "happy initative by the American Government."

"I hope," the message said, "that the Initiative of President Hoover, the high significance of which is perfectly understood by the Italian people, will open a period of more efficacious collaboration among the nations, a collaboration so necessary at this moment of general difficulty and on the eve of the disarmament conference."

POSTPONE PLANS TO BUILD SUPER-LINERS

Hard times on the seas have caused an indefinite postponement of plans of the Shipping Board to put the American merchant marine in the race for the "blue ribbon" of the Atlantic, and the proposed two transatlantic liners, the plans for which called for an expenditure of about $60,000,000, will not be contracted for until normal times have returned.—New York News Bureau.

Announcement of C.N.R. President Excites Interest

Great Transportation Systems Have Facilities Available for Extension of Service Outlined by National Railways Executive

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—Sir Henry Thornton's announcement at Ottawa yesterday that the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railways were considering a plan of joint steamship operation on the Pacific Coast and extension of the service from Vancouver and Victoria to San Francisco, excited great interest here.

At the present time, it was pointed out, one line from Seattle to San Francisco has a virtual monopoly of a lucrative coastwise tourist traffic, although of late it has been cut into somewhat by the European lines, such as the Italian Libera and the French Line, who have been picking up substantial passenger traffic at Los Angeles and San Francisco for the voyage to Vancouver.

Without alteration of the present northbound or local coastwise schedules, save on the run between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, it is pointed out, the two companies together have ample equipment for extension of the service, say biweekly, to San Francisco.

LADY PASSENGER ASKING DAMAGES

Suit Filed Against Owners of Liner Harvard for Sum of $50,000

LOS ANGELES, June 25 (AP).—A suit for $50,000 as a result of the wreck of the coastwise passenger steamer Harvard May 30, declaring the belief that certain of the officers were under the influence of intoxicating liquors, was filed here yesterday by Bess Delaney, a passenger on the vessel, against the Los Angeles Steamship Company, operator of the line.

She alleges that she lost a $3,500 wardrobe, a miniature Bible 100 years old, other antiques and a collection of coins dating back to 1774. The property is valued by the complainant at $10,000, and an additional $40,000 is demanded for personal injuries assertedly suffered between the time the ship went aground off Point Arguello until the passengers were picked up by the United States cruiser Louisville.

Farm Products Market Letter

The market news letter issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, under date of June 25, says:

Victoria—Wire from markets representative, Calgary: "Cherries are backing up and prices are expected to be low on them first of week. Calgary has 250 crates of loganberries for tomorrow, only seven crates today, but market backs up with small supplies. Tomorrow's price will be $1.75 for logans; $2.65 on rasps, and strawberries will sell on merit, about $2.50 top to jobbers." Owing to the wet weather at the Coast the mortality amongst young chicks has been higher than usual, approximating the rearing season of 1917, which was a disastrous one. The present Spring-like temperatures have had the effect of prolonging the peak laying period.

Edmonton—Business is fair. June rains have been abundant and crops are in excellent condition, which has created a brighter business outlook. The trade is disappointed with the berry deal, the market depending on British Columbia arrivals which are inadequate for demand. Arrivals for the week amounted to 1,135 crates, which sold from $3 to $3.50 per crate, condition of arrival being fair to good. Raspberry volume is increasing and arriving in fair condition, and selling at $3.25 to $3.50. The cherry volume is increasing rapidly. This market will take only the best varieties and of good quality. Varieties such as Governor Wood, etc., are not wanted. Penticton Bings, of excellent quality, are arriving and selling at $4. Bings from other districts are selling at $3 to $3.25; Royal Annes and Tartarians, $2.25, and Decons, $3.25. Car of British Columbia new potatoes received of small size, but quality good and selling slowly at 3 to 3 1-4 cents a pound. British Columbia cabbage, bunch beets and carrots improving in quality and size.

Regina — Weather, warm with local showers. British Columbia strawberries arriving soft, except Wynndels, which are arriving fair. British Sovereigns have arrived on this market in better condition than the Magoons. British Columbia head lettuce, cauliflower, green peas, cucumbers, new potatoes, cabbage, carrots and spinach in good supply and demand. Express receipts of British Columbia Tartarian and Royal Anne cherries are on the market. British Columbia hothouse tomatoes are retailing at the same price as imported field product. Considerable local rhubarb now offering.

Wrestling Contest In Nanaimo Draws Large Attendance

NANAIMO, June 25.—About seven hundred spectators turned out to see the wrestling matches held in Pygmy Pavilion last evening.

The first bout was between Young Gus Sonnenberg and Young Strangler Lewis, who wrestled four strenuous bouts to a draw. The next bout, between Basyl Errett and Wildcat Kellow, who kept the crowd cheering throughout, also ended in a draw, no falls going to either contestant.

Tiger Matthews, of Portland, 230 pounds, and Rocky Brooks, Victoria, 200 pounds, went to the mat in eight-minute rounds, each of which was packed with action. Tiger took the first fall after 1 minute and 36 seconds of the second round, the second fall going to Rocky Brooks in the third round. The third fall was taken by Rocky Brooks with a body press.

Young Hackenschmidt had trouble at the border line, Announcer Maffeo told the spectators, and was unable to reach Nanaimo, Nan Jo Singh filling his place against Ernie McArthur. The latter won by two falls to none.

Egg Market Review

The Egg and Poultry Market Review issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, under date of June 20, says:

A dull, uneventful market has prevailed through egg-producing areas on the larger distributing markets during the past week. The whole story of the past week may be summed up in the statement that production is still heavier than the consumptive demand, that there is no active buying of eggs for storing, and that there is not much chance for conditions to improve until receipts fall off further.

It has been something of a surprise to all associated with the poultry industry that production has not fallen off more rapidly this season than has been the case, considering the early start of the laying season. It is felt, however, that the next few weeks will see supplies materially lighter as compared to a year ago.

Sooke Girl Wins Award

A prize, the winning of which calls for distinctive qualifications in drawing and the use of water colors, has been awarded Jeanne Thornber, a thirteen-year-old pupil of Sooke Superior School. Jeanne ranked fifth in the Province of British Columbia in the national flower appreciation contest of the Society of American Florists. She has been presented with a cheque for $5 and a letter of appreciation. The judges were Miss Marjorie Barrows, of The Child Life Magazine; H. G. Peliken, of the Milwaukee Museum of Art, and J. Horace McFarland, Indianapolis.

Old Country Fair at St. Alban's Grounds Will Be Held Today

OAKLANDS, June 25.—Many attractions have been arranged for the delectation of visitors to the Old Country Fair at St. Alban's Church grounds, Ryan and Belmont Streets, Oaklands, on Friday, June 26. A supplementary list of amusements is as follows: Mr. V. Banister, president of the social committee, will operate the magic carpet; miniature golf will be run by Miss Frere; Mrs. C. Barlow with her Coster barrow; prize shoot by Toc H; the King Tut treasure in the custody of Miss Eileen Barlow; "Darkie Magicians," by Barney Barlow and Norman McConnell. Throughout the afternoon there will be music, kindly supplied by Fletcher Bros. Afternoon tea will be served and ice cream, candy and soft drinks will be on sale.

Real "country fair" characters will be in evidence to lend color and gaiety to the scene, costumes for which have been loaned by Mrs Barlow.

The fete will be opened at 3 o'clock by Premier Tolmie, followed by a dance at night in the Oaklands Auditorium.

In the event of inclement weather the fete will be held in the auditorium.

Meeting of Deanery Held in Chemainus

On Monday the ruridecanal meeting of the Northern Deanery was held in the Chemainus Parish Hall, with an attendance of seventy-five, Nanaimo, Duncan and other points being represented. Venerable Archdeacon Collison occupied the chair. Archdeacon Laycock then read an extremely interesting report on the subjects and resolutions made by the bishops at the Lambeth Conference last year, and asked for questions and discussions. Following these, a vote of thanks was moved by A. E. P. Stubbs.

Express Rate on Cherries Reduced

VERNON, June 25.—Express companies announce, effective immediately, a reduction in rates on cherries. The rate on cherries in car lots to Toronto and Montreal is $5 per 100. Under the reduction given it is $4.60. The rate to North Bay has been reduced from $5 to $4 on a 17,000-pound car. This would be a saving of $178.

CITY BANK CLEARINGS

Total clearings at the Victoria Clearing House for the week ending June 25 were $1,705,718. For the corresponding period last year they were $2,522,401.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridien west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

AIR MEETS ENTERTAIN

Picturesque Incidents Representing Story of Aviation at London Shows

That the well organized air meeting remains an unsurpassed entertainment, even after more than twenty years of air meetings, was shown magnificently a short time ago when two aerodromes in London's outer ring staged displays declared by spectators to be among the best ever seen in that country. Both events, at Hanworth Air Park and Brooklands, were controlled with precision and the programme went through with unhurried swiftness.

At Hanworth, where nearly 400 members of Parliament were the guests of the day, the most picturesque incident was the appearance together of airplanes representing between them twenty-two years of progress in aviation, a faithful replica of the tiny monoplane in which Bleriot made the first flight across the English Channel, in 1909, and Hannibal, first of the fleet of eight huge Handley-Page biplanes, each weighing fully laden more than thirteen tons, acquired by Imperial Airways for their European and Empire routes.

Piloted by Mr. Quatremarre, the tiny Bleriot machine, just 600 pounds of aeroplane and pilot, flew steadily around the aerdrome, driven by a small twenty-five-horsepower motor. Hannibal, with four 575-horsepower engines, roared off the ground, lifting into the air after an astonishingly short take-off run. This, the first machine delivered of the new fleet, is equipped for use in the East and has space for eighteen passengers and no less than 3,500 pounds of mails and urgent freight. The same type of air liner, with accommodation arranged for service on the European routes, has space in two saloons for no fewer than thirty-eight passengers, in addition to a crew of four.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, June 25 (CP).—Donaldson Line Ms. Modavia, Captain W. E. Mitchell, arrived overnight to Balfour, Guthrie & Co. with 1,500 tons of cargo to discharge from United Kingdom sources. She stopped at San Francisco and Victoria on the way in and will load 3,000 tons at Vancouver and New Westminster.

N.Y.K. liner Ms. Hikawa Maru sailed at noon today for the Orient with Japanese mails, a large passenger list and a good general cargo.

Royal Mail Steam Packet Ss. Narenta, Captain R. G. Clayton, sailed late Wednesday afternoon for Seattle.

Furness (Pacific) Limited, Ms. Pacific Ranger, Captain A. E. Bailey, sailed tonight for London via Seattle and ports. The ship will leave this coast with all her passenger accommodation taken. Vancouver passengers are Francis Rumsey and Miss A. M. Bennett. The latter came out to British Columbia on a visit on one of the Furness vessels some months ago.

Daily service direct from Vancouver to Newcastle Island, the company's newly opened Summer and picnic resort in Nanaimo harbor, was started by the Canadian Pacific Railway today with departure of Ss. Princess Victoria from Pier D at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

LAKE LIGHTHOUSE HIT BY LIGHTNING

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 25 (AP).—Corbell Point lighthouse, at the entrance to Batchawana Bay, was struck by lightning in a severe electrical storm which caused considerable damage in the Algoma district. The lighthouse was destroyed by the resulting fire.

William Reil, lightkeeper, and his daughter, Philemon Reil, lost all their clothing and other belongings, and Miss Reil had a narrow escape from being trapped in the building. Reil plans to put a light on the range until he receives further instructions from the department. The lighthouse, built in 1878, held a light which stood seventy-eight feet above the lake.

Excursion to Bellingham on Dominion Day Will Prove Popular

Tickets are selling rapidly for the excursion that the C.P.R. coast steamer Princess Joan will take to Bellingham and return next Wednesday, under the auspices of the Robert Burns McMicking Chapter, I.O.D.E. Being Dominion Day and a general holiday, it is expected the steamer will have close to 1,000 people aboard when she steams out of the harbor.

The Joan will leave the Belleville Street dock in the morning at 9 o'clock and will arrive in Bellingham shortly after noon. The return journey will commence at 5 p.m. from Bellingham, which will give Victorians practically an afternoon to see the shops and sights of the busy little city.

A very popular orchestra will be carried for dancing, and luncheon and dinner will be served aboard in the main dining saloon. Members of the chapter are working energetically on details and the excursion will no doubt be an outstanding success.

"A man to see you, ma'am."
"Ask him to take a chair."
"But he says he came for all of them."

NEW WESTMINSTER, June 25.—William Bagley, extradited from the State of Washington on a charge of being implicated in the robbery of the Harrison Hot Springs Hotel, April 27, was this afternoon committed for trial by Magistrate G. F. Pratt.

HOW IT STARTED

By Jean Newton

DON'T SWAP HORSES IN MID-STREAM

One of our readers has written for the origin of this expression which admonishes against changing one's instruments or assistants in the midst of a difficult task or problem. The last time I heard it used was by a woman who cautioned her friend against discharging her cook in view of a party she contemplated giving in the near future.

"Don't swap horses in mid-stream." We have this from a well-known story about Abraham Lincoln, which has the droll humor of most Lincolnia, so to speak.

It was on the occasion of his renomination for the presidency, on June 9, 1864, that Lincoln made famous the saying when he remarked: "I am reminded of the story of an old Dutch farmer who remarked that it was not best to swap horses when crossing a stream."

MONTREAL EN FETE

MONTREAL, June 25.—Montreal was en fete yesterday in honor of St. Jean Baptise, patron saint of French-Canadians. Practically all establishments were closed for the occasion. A monster parade was held.

"I suppose you have been in the navy so long," she asked, "that you are quite accustomed to 'sea-legs'?"

"I wasn't really looking," he remarked.

SAYS INDIA NOT FIT FOR HOME RULE

R. W. Hanson, Former Madras Postmaster-General, Is Visitor Here

"MOTHER INDIA" IS TRUTHFUL PICTURE

"Great Britain stands in India for education, for social uplift, for the emancipation of women, for the protection of the untouchables, for civilization. India is not yet ready for home rule," declares R. W. Hanson, a former Postmaster-General of the Madras Presidency, who is in the city at the present time on his way to England from New Zealand, where he has been living recently.

The caste problem and the myriad religions with their fanatical antagonisms are the great barriers to real unity in India, he informed a Colonist representative yesterday, in reviewing some of the outstanding events in India's political history in recent years. Special reference was made to the Montagu and Simon reports and the conferences which have been held in London.

All parties in India had sent delegates to the last Round Table Conference except the Congress party, which was in favor of independence, and did not believe in sending representatives to any conference in Great Britain. While the agitators favored independence the ruling princes in India, who had also sent a delegation to the conference, wanted the British to maintain the paramount influence and power, not favoring interference, in the internal affairs of their provinces, from the Legislative council at Delhi. The princes had their own chamber of princes directly under the Viceroy of India, and did not wish to see their provinces exploited by any extremist party.

GANDHI'S STRENGTH

"Gandhi's power has lain in the fact that when he started his movement against the Government about ten years ago he was working for the uplift of the lower castes," says Mr. Hanson. On the whole Gandhi had been more consistent than many of the other agitators, who had affected simplicity in their mode of living when they went among the people, but had followed the more luxurious Western mode of life when they went to the city. Nevertheless Gandhi himself had little faith in his own people in other respects, as was seen when he had an attack of appendicitis and insisted on having an English physician and nurse rather than one of his countrymen. And although he wears the scant dress of the people and lives with extreme simplicity, he uses the modern methods of transportation which have been introduced by the British.

PEOPLE IGNORANT

The illiteracy of the masses of India and their utter ignorance of what is going on even in their own country makes it impossible to affect, except with infinite slowness, their attitude toward those in control. The missionaries for the most part are reaching only the very submerged castes, the "untouchables" and other lower orders. But the millions above live in the traditional social prejudices and ignorances which Miss Mayo so frankly portrayed in "Mother India."

"While her agitators are talking political independence, they will not give social equality to the lower grades of Hindus. Mohammedans still keep their women rigidly locked up in zenanas, their immuration being so strict that in some provinces a Mohammedan cannot even introduce his wife to his own brother, while he suffers social ostracism if he takes his wife to walk through the street. We try to persuade them to emancipate their women and raise the age of marriage. But they rebel against any such progress," says Mr. Hanson.

DON'T UNDERSTAND

He states that India, for long centuries accustomed to the most autocratic form of government, does not understand party rule. This is one reason why Britain instituted the system of a benevolent autocracy whereby a viceroy represents the King, thus leaving opportunity for the outward show and pomp to which the population has been accustomed.

India was also shown as a land of numerous independent states, under ruling Princes, about five hundred in number. There are so many sects and castes that it is difficult to assess the proportion of representation that can be accorded to the different classes and creeds. However, a benignant government gave cohesion and recognition to all these, and in the circumstances India certainly had the best political conditions possible.

"The policy of the British Government has for some years been to give self-government by installments to India, as the people show themselves capable of governing," says Mr. Hanson. One of the serious drawbacks, as already noted, is the illiteracy of the people. Only about 1 per cent of the whole population of three hundred millions understands the English language; only about 5 per cent are literate in their own languages. This places a tremendous part of the people beyond approach. It also means that if England handed over the reins of government it would be to a very small minority, for the government of a vast majority without voice or understanding.

SIMON COMMISSION

The report of the Simon Commission Mr. Hanson considered very fair. But some people in Great Britain, thousands of miles away, wondered why, if it was so fair, there were so many outbreaks of lawlessness following the introduction of reforms. The explanation was, largely, that the Indians, or a section of them, wanted a greater measure of self-government, and no matter what concessions were granted, would still not be content. Gandhi's influence was specially among the Hindus, but although these were in the majority, they were by no means the whole population, among those on whom he had no influence being 60,000,000 Mohammedans. The Brahmin, the high-class Hindu, from time immemorial had held the power. In his eyes the other classes were the "forgotten of God" and did not exist. Many of the high-class Brahmins were well educated, with an understanding of and sympathy for European culture.

THE BOYCOTTS

One of the sources of revenue in India was the tax on salt, amounting to about two shillings per annum. Gandhi and his followers objected to any taxation, although without tax and revenue the army, used for defensive purposes along the frontiers, could not be maintained; the police could not be kept up for the security of the countryside, the medical wants of the masses attended to, and the vast irrigation projects inaugurated by the British, be completed.

"India says she wants dominion status like Canada, Ireland and South Africa, not realizing that India is not homogeneous even in the relative sense that these Dominions are; also they do not realize that the natives of South Africa are not enfranchised," said Mr. Hanson in conclusion, at the same time commenting that he thought the next session of the round-table conference which is to take place in London in August would be a fiasco unless India herself came to some agreement among her own representatives. So far as England was concerned, India had never been a party question; it was an "all-party" problem.

Spanish Prince on Stroll in Strand

DON JAIME

second son of King Alfonso of Spain, seems to be fully resigned to his exile. He is seen above strolling through the Strand, London, England, dressed in unconventional English suit of navy blue with grey flannels.

Sailors were being entrained when an officer noticed a couple of men asleep on a seat down the platform.

"Who are those men?" he asked a porter.

"Two men from the North; I think they are tired, sir."

"Not on draft, eh?"

"Oh, no, sir; bottled, I fancy!"

LEARNED LESSON SAYS MINISTER

Immigration to Be Entirely Disassociated From Politics for the Future

OTTAWA, June 25 (CP).—"So far as this Government is concerned in connection with immigration, I hope—and I believe that hope will be realized—that if politics in the past have entered into the question, we have learned our lesson," said Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration, in the House of Commons last night. The mistakes of the past had been made manifest to him in the department, he continued, "and in the future immigration will be entirely disassociated from politics and will be conducted only in the interests of the country."

"So long as I am in power," the minister continued, "the immigration policy of this country will not be dictated by transportation companies and booking agencies whose interests are governed solely by their pockets."

The House was in committee of supply on the immigration estimates which were reached in the last hour of the sitting tonight. No item passed before the House rose at 11 o'clock.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS' WORK DISPLAYED

Examples of Pupils' Progress in Manual Training and Domestic Science Are Shown

Manual training and domestic science work of pupils of public schools of the city were on display at the North Ward and Boys' Central Schools yesterday. In both the girls' and boys' classes some excellent samples were shown, and credit is due the instructors for the teaching they have done.

Tables, table lamps, foot stools, work benches, scissor racks and many other useful and ornamental models marked the work of the boys. Simpler joints and models made by grade six were shown, while the pupils of grades seven and eight displayed the models which revealed signs of much hard and earnest work.

A feature of the North Ward display was an upholstered chair, made by a grade eight pupil, which drew favorable comment from those who attended the exhibition. Some very attractive tea wagons also indicated much time spent in their construction. The manual training instructors at North Ward and Boys' Central are D. S. Cameron and W. E. Pienderleith, respectively.

The girls' work included samples of dresses and beach pajamas, made during the year. At the North Ward School a fashion parade was held in the afternoon, in which the pupils wore the garments which they had made. Various competitions in sewing and dressmaking have been conducted during the year, and the prize-winning samples were shown.

OBJECT OF TRAINING

The object of this work being carried on in the schools is to teach the girls speed and accuracy in making the garments. Cleanliness during their work is also essential and is a great benefit in later life. Grade six, seven and eight girls are taught in these classes.

Margaret George and Shizuko Shimizu, girls of the North Ward School, were successful in capturing the David Spencer prize for the best pair of pajamas and the Hudson's Bay prize for the best-made dress, respectively. The grade eight class of the school also won the Women's Canadian Club trophy for the best group work from the four school centres of the city. The prizes won by Miss George and Miss Shimizu were also selected from a group which included samples from the four centres. The grade seven class of Girls' Central won the first prize in their group. The teachers who supervise this work at the schools are, Miss M. Beane, Miss Doris Graves, Miss M. A. Peto, of North Ward School, and Miss B. Ramsay and Miss I. Garnett, of Girls' Central School.

MINISTER RESIGNS

CANBERRA, Australia, June 25 (CP).—Hon. C. E. Culley, Minister of National Defence, resigned from Prime Minister James Scullin's Cabinet yesterday in protest against the Cabinet's adoption of the extreme economy measures drawn up by the recent conference of Premiers. His resignation followed that of Hon. E. J. Holloway, assistant minister of industry.

"I proposed marriage to Widow Smith yesterday."

"Then I may congratulate you?"

"Rather. She refused me."

Face, Neck, Head Covered With Pimples. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face, neck and head were covered with pimples that were hard and inflamed. They were always itchy, causing me to scratch, which made them worse. They bothered me for several years and nothing seemed to help the trouble.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using it I could see a slight improvement in my skin. I decided to buy some more Soap and Ointment and in a short time my pimples were all gone. I was healed." (Signed) Miss Florence Nelson, Percival, Sask.
